300 Buy Chamber Tickets

More than 300 have purchased tickets for the Chamber of Commerce dinner theatre at 6:15 p.m. Monday in the fieldhouse.

The evening will include the Neil Simon play "Plaza Suite," and a filet mignon dinner.

The chairs and tables encircle the stage in a theater in the round fashion and no seat will be more than 30 feet from the stage, according to Shad Old, dinner chairman. The stage will be raised to provide a good view.

Brownies and Girl Scouts will be hostesses.

The deadline for buying tickets is Thursday. Tickets may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office on South Kingshighway.

Billboard Bill Passed

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri legislature finally passed a billboard control bill Tuesday with the sponsors sighing in relief and the opponents continuing to insist it was unconstitutional.

Robert L. Hyder, chief counsel of the Highway Department, said he believed it would comply with federal requirements and so give Missouri $11.5 million in highway aid that had been held back.

Hyder said he talked with a Department of Transportation attorney about the changes in the compromise bill and got a cautious opinion that the Missouri law probably is in compliance.

Hyder declined to express himself on the constitutionality of the bill before he gets a full look at it in its final form.

Missouri's chief concern was the cost of tearing down billboards that don't meet the requirements of the new regulation and paying the owners for their losses.

The bill provides that highway funds may be used, but that runs against a legal opinion of Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth. He said the Constitution will not allow the use of highway funds for non-highway purposes.

Sponsors of the compromise bill tried to skirt that problem by providing in the bill a statement of policy on highway safety and the convenience of the traveling public.

Federal Charge For Thompson

Tommy Lee Thompson, who was bound over to circuit court for trial yesterday following a preliminary hearing on charges of breaking into the junior high middle school in 1969, now has something else to worry about.

He was taken into custody after the hearing by Scott County Sheriff John Dennis on a federal warrant issued by the U.S. Marshal in St. Louis.

Thompson, who is now in county jail, was ordered to stand trial April 13 in Benton by Magistrate Judge Lloyd Briggs.

The federal warrant stems from a March 22 federal grand jury indictment charging the 24-year-old Sikeston resident with firearms violations. He is charged with possession of a weapon after being convicted of a felony which is a federal offense. He was found with the weapon by police in St. Louis in June, 1971, more than a year after being convicted of burglary in Hannibal.

The charges against Thompson in the school break-in allege he took watches, cap pistols, and food. Authorities charge his finger prints were found in the school.

Thompson was tried and acquited of murder and rape in the 1965 slaying of Mrs. Thelma Lewis.

Thompson also was arrested for burglary in Vandalia, Ill., and spent time in the Alton, Ill., jail.

Senate Wants To Cut Budget

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee recommended today Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' $1.9 billion budget for 1972-73 be cut by about $25 million.

The committee fixed a general revenue (tax money) total appropriation of $791,521,470 compared with the governor's recommendation of $822.5 million.

Sen. Donald Manford, D-Kansas City, appropriations chairman, said no breakdown was available immediately on the total amount of appropriations from federal and other funds.

The committee's estimates of available revenue differed sharply from those of Comptroller John C. Vaughn.

Vaughn has estimated total revenue for this year, 1971-72, will amount to $750.7 million. But the committee said its studies showed the total would be $739,149,882.

On the basis of committee figures, the current budget would cause a deficit of almost $10 million by June 30, the end of the fiscal year, counting a $6.8 million emergency appropriation bill passed earlier this year.

Starting from that premise, the committee concluded revenue available for the 1972-73 year would amount to $795,120,060. If $15 million in unexpended money lapses at the end of this fiscal year.

Teenagers Hurt In Crash

DEXTER — Three teenagers were injured in a one-car mishap at 7:56 p.m. Tuesday one mile northeast of Dexter on a gravel road.

The accident occurred, the highway patrol said, when a southbound 1963 Ford driven by Marvin E. Finch, 18, of Dexter, went out of control and ran off the road.

Finch sustained cuts and bruises. Two passengers were injured. Janet Stewart, 15, of Dexter, sustained forehead cuts, and Richard Weaver, 15, of Dexter, suffered cuts on the right leg.

The trio were taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital.

$4,000 Aid For Student

NEW MADRID — The Jimmy Henderson fund has reached $4,000 after a public appeal was made a week ago by school students to aid the 15- year- old high school freshman, who was stricken March 19 with a cerebral hemmorhage.

Henderson, a patient in Baptist Hospital at Memphis, recovering from a five- hour operation is improving daily. He was taken out of intensive care Thursday and was able to sit up 20 minutes Tuesday.

School students designated Saturday Jimmy Henderson Day. They collected $862 from an all- daybake sale, window washing, yard cleaning, car wash, and manning road blocks.

Two House Breakin Arrests

BENTON — Scott County Sheriff John Dennis announced the arrest of two men after the March 19 breakin at the Sam Menz home, route two, Chaffee.

Charged with breaking and entering are Danny Hibbs of Oran and Marvin D. Hedger of Chaffee.

A $1,000 Stradivarius bass fiddle taken in the robbery was destroyed by the two men, according to Dennis. He said they threw the instrument out of the car near Chaffee and smashed it.

A violin taken in the robbery is still missing, as is a woman's watch. Dennis has recovered a gun and a radio stolen from the Menz house.

Dennis said he traced the men through a lead but refused to give details.

Dennis said he does not believe the robbery was connected with the burglary of the John Mayfield house near Benton on the same day.

He said other agencies helping to track down the two men were the Chaffee police department and the Cape Girardeau County sheriff's office.

Blind Teacher Realizes She Must Try Harder

"OPAL (the dog) has been the biggest major change in my personal life," Marcia Setzer, blind Spanish and French teacher at Dexter high school, says.

By PAM HORTON

DEXTER — "If I could see for a week I might first go to look in the mirror but I wouldn't stay there too long. I would probably walk through Dexter and look everyone straight in the face."

Marcia Setzer, 44, a diabetic since 16, began having trouble with her eyes while teaching freshman English and French at White Hall, Ill.

"I finished out the year by grading papers with a magnifying glass. It's ironic, too. I had just bought the one big investment besides my car, a set of encyclopedias on the installment plan, and couldn't read them."

"After an eye specialist told me that I was going blind, I wrote a letter of resignation to White Hall. My father had been a Baptist minister in Manchester, N.H. for 22 years and had an invitation to become superintendent of the Temperance League of Missouri, so I came to Missouri with them. This was the beginning of a long empty period in many respects. I went down hill very gradually, losing my sight a little at a time."

For the next three years it was a world of learning and adjusting to blindness and long periods of depression.

"One day, deciding what did I have to loose, I walked into a school within walking distance of our home and asked to speak to the superintendent. I told him I would like to substitute teach, feeling I could hold the department together for a few days anyway. Surprisingly, one day they called me and I taught for nine days. I began to realize I could teach these sighted kids if I could reach their minds and get their attention."

After this Miss Setzer attended the Adult Rehabilitation Center for the Blind, in Minneapolis four months learning the three things any blind person must learn, self-care, communication, and mobility.

"I loved it and didn't want to go home," she said. "It was security."

"But I did go home to more housework and depression. I needed a job."

This is when Miss Setzer began traveling with the help of the St. Louis Bureau for the Blind to school in Missouri. On May 10, 1960, she signed her contract with Dexter high school to teach French and Spanish and has been teaching there 12 years.

"What is it that makes a full life?" she said. "First of all health. I'm a servere diabetic. I'm happy to have been given this long to live because of insulin. Nature would have done away with me before the age of 16 otherwise, but here I am still making students miserable daily. Next, work, because I try to be as good as I can be. I'm in a job that a sighted person could do better. I know it and I always feel inadequate."

Also important in Miss Setzer's life is Opal, a golden retriever, her seeing-eye dog.

"She has been a terrific change in my life and the biggest major change in my personal life," she said. "I spend a great deal of time with her and my health and morale are even much better."

Opal is five and Miss Setzer received her when Opal was a year and eight months old. She was raised by a 4-H child in New York State who is in the process of raising his 13th dog for the blind. Opal was trained by two professional trainers at the Guiding Eyes for the Blind, Inc., in Yorktown Heights, N. Y., three months and with Miss Setzer at the school for one month.

"We took bus rides, subway rides with the trainers, and then they sent us out alone together."

"There are problems all of the time for me such as motivating a student to learn, finding things I loose, taking three times to do what other teachers do in half that time, health problems, and buying clothes, which is purely visual, to name only a few," she explained.

"My philosophy of life has to be a flexible one such as General Douglas McArther stated, 'There's no security, only opportunity.' When you get to the place where you think you have it made, by then something else has changed. The only thing you can do from day to day is to try even though you really don't know where you are going."

Reorganization Bid Delayed

Panel Assigned

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee took no action today on a proposed constitutional change to reorganize state government, but assigned a threeman subcommittee to study the measure and make a recommendation next week.

Sen. Maurice Schechter, DCreve ?Coeur, chairman, named Sens. William J. Cason, D-Clinton, William B. Waters, D-Liberty, and Richard M. Webster, R-Carthage, to the subcommittee.

The House-passed proposal which would have to be approved by the voters, calls for 10 or 11 major state departments in the executive branch, covering scores of small agencies, boards and commissions.

It was one of the key recommendations of the State Reorganization, or "Little Hoover," Commission which ran into trouble earlier this session in committee and on the Senate floor.

Cason, majority leader of the Senate, is opposed to the proposal. He said proponents are misleading the people when they contend it would save the state millions of dollars by eliminating overlapping and duplication of services.

But Paul Williams, legal assistant to Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, insisted that in the long run considerable savings and better efficiency would result.

One of the hottest issues in the discussion of the proposal was a provision calling for the lumping together of the Conservation Commission, state Park Board, state Boat Commission and he Outdoor Recreation Council into one Department of Natural Resources.

As an offshoot of this issue, Sen. Richard M. Webster, RCarthage, charged that efforts by the Conservation Confederation of Missouri to establish a 1 cent soft drink tax to finance conservation programs was a "sneaky device" to circumvent the legislature by initiative petition.

The committee also heard testimony on another proposed constitutional amendment that would exempt household items and clothing from personal property tax.

That measure brought opposition primarily from spokesmen for St. Louis County government and teachers who claimed it would cost the county schools more than $2 million in revenue and deprive other government services of $290,000.

Bombing Raids

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam is considering sending its air force on bombing raids to support its ground troops in South Vietnam and Laos for the first time in the war, U.S. military sources said today.

They said Hanoi has lenghtened the runway of its southernmost base and is building two other air strips.

The sources said the action raises the possibility of further intensification of the air war, including new large-scale retaliatory U.S. strikes inside North Vietnam.

"Information we have convinces us they are thinking of using MIG17s and MIG19s in an air-to -ground support role," said one source.

Achter and Herbert Burbaker had been questioned about the March 18 armed robbery of Staders Highway Market in Charleston. No charges have been filed as witnesses could not identify the men's voices as that of the robber.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

A man never knows much until he is old, and then he is too discreet to tell.

THE EVERLASTING LIGHT

To awake even on Easter morning and mentally scan the sea of troubles besetting mankind could turn this into a day of depression. To the contrary, it should be a day of happiness and joy. It is the inspiration for each of us, whatever his age and condition in life, to sense a personal rebirth of soul and spirit.

St. Luke told the story of the two followers of the young minister who had been crucified only three days before. They were walking on the road from Jerusalem to Emmaus, talking out their despondency over the loss of their leader's life. A stranger, the risen Christ whom they did not recognize, joined them and asked: "What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?" Having heard their explanations, Jesus then said: "O fools, and slow of heart to believe ... ought not Christ to have suffered those things, and to enter into his glory?"

Once these men realized who their companion was they could join others in creating a faith which has transcended 2,000 years of mankind's pain, hardship and conflict.

The gloom of any day or any dismal situation is swept away in an ocean of enlightenment and inner strength when the meaning of Easter is comprehended.

William Temple, archbishop of Canterbury in the early 1940s, once wrote: "There is nothing distinctively modern about the problem of evil for all who believe or yearn to believe in God. And nowhere is that problem presented so insistently as at the Cross. Yet it is out of the darkness which surrounds the Cross that the great light breaks ... For there can be no darkness blacker than the darkness of Calvary; yet out of it shines the everlasting light."

And it was Jesus, who had said, just before his death: "In the world ye have tribulation: But be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."

Darkness is synonymous with fear, despair and evil. Light is the symbol of gladness, joy and good.

Which side do we communicate to each other as we walk through life? American astronauts have journeyed into a black void of space, but it is significant that they always are cheered when they gaze back at that bright blue planet which is our home.

Sleep is a kind of darkness, too. But as we open our eyes on the new day, there is rebirth, new life,new opportunity and challenge. And especially on this day there shines that everlasting light.

EASTER PRAYER

I studied his face, war -worn,
I looked at his hand, mine-torn;
I turned to Thee;
You comforted me.
I thought of another Son, life-given.
I could see His hands, nail-driven.
Who did You turn to,
Who comforted You?
The love of those who cherished Him
As they knelt upon the sod,
I pray their love was comforting;
That You weren't alone, dear God.

WHOSE IDEA WAS IT?

The facts are that National Health Insurance is being advocated by Americans for Democratic Action. Both the idea and the ADA were conceived many years ago by the Fabian Socialist Society of London as part of the Fabians hoped that someday the world might live under socialism and nothing else.

What the ADA and the Fabians can't admit is the known fact that socialized medicine in England, British National Health Service (BNHS), became so sick, it died several years ago. It is given the appearance of life by socialists such as Prime Minister Harold Wilson. British doctors have fled that medically ill island by the thousands and, as far as the patients are concerned, word from the blighted isle is that the English are voluntarily joining nongovernment medical insurance plans — even while they pay the taxes which miserably fail to finance socialized medicine.

BNHS was the brainchild of Lord Beveridge, a known collaborator of the British Fabian Society of London. That fact must be kept in mind as one looks at the evidence that the proposed American National Health Insurance is socialist to the core, as are certain Americans who are pushing NHI and who duck the socialist name, but play a good socialist game.

These Americans who deny they are socialists are those of the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), whose 1969 legislative program called for "National Health Service" and a "guaranteed income." Technically, the socialist label won't stick, because the means test of socialism is a call for "government ownership of the means of production." ADA hasn't done that, at least publicly, but its constant fight for government control of the means of production would accomplish the same socialist goals. Upon such rhetorical technicalities empires have been built: if it's too technical for the citizen, how can he fight the false premises that lurk within the technicality?

U. S. FARMERS' STAKE IN FREEDOM

A farmer needs capital of $250,000 for a 480-acre hog-corn farm in eastern Nebraska, and he needs $1,765,000 for a 22,000-acre cow-calf ranch in northern Nebraska, according to Philip A. Henderson, economist of the University of Nebraska. A study by him was quoted in the March issue of Successful Farming.

The study assumes that a young man with the ability to operate a farm or ranch profitably could make $14,000 to $16,000 in a non-farm job. Land, trucks, tractors, machinery, silos, cars and all the other materials needed on a modern farm make the farmer of today a true capitalist-entrepreneur. He needs money at every turn. In addition to his vast personal industry, he needs good fortune by way of weather for corn and grasses and other crops, and his animals have to remain in good health. The government can make or break him in a number of ways.

The day of the very small farmer, with 40 to 50 acres, is becoming less and less profitable. The average farm size is more then 350 acres. The agriculturist of today is a man of culture as well as many abilities. Karl Marx was wrong in a number of his assumptions, but nowhere more so than in his remarks about the "idiocy of village life." With the publication of books and periodicals on an enormous scale, and the addition of radio, television and the telephone, the farmer is at least as smart as the average man.

There is good reason to look after the independence of American farmers. Without being badgered and hamstrung at every turn by his government (as happens to farmers under socialism) the average American farmer produces food for 44 persons, with the number still rising. About 95 per cent of Americans are family owned. May they ever prosper.

While the voters were going to the polls in the New Hampshire primary, Lew Gingery of Rushville gave us his fearless forecast on who would be the Presidential nominee of the Democratic Party in 1972.

Following the ever-changing winds of politics during his over-90 years, Lew told us that he has never before felt this way about a candidate, but the pieces of the puzzle are falling into place.

First, Lew believes that George McGovern was backed by Kennedy people and money in the New Hampshire primary for a reason. Also, McGovern was given the Massachusetts Democratic delegates who are really pledged to Ted Kennedy.

Lew rates Kennedy as very clever as he stays out of the party fights between the candidates, and when convention time comes in August Kennedy will be nominated for President by Democrats after 4 or 5 ballots.

Lew says the Democratic politicians throughout the United States really favor another Kennedy and Nixon confrontation -- and this will help swing it.

Now we'll wait and see if the Sage of Rushville is right.

LOUSE'S LEASE ON LIFE RENEWED

An unexpected guest has joined the back-to-nature or do-your- own - thing or commune movement.

According to the American Museum of Natural History in New York, human lice, almost eradicated by DDT powders developed during World War II, are now staging a comeback as a result of communal living among young people with low standards of hygiene.

The museum even built an "Exhibit of the Month" around a wax model of Pediculus humanus corporus, the common body louse. And as it does with other primitive tribal groups, the museum has recreated a communal living scene, complete with used cups, dirty blankets and community hairbrush.

By no means are all communal groups lice-prone, the museum hastens to assure. If members maintain ordinary standards of personal grooming and hygiene, lice are not likely to appear. But when these standards are allowed to lapse, Mr. Louse and all his relatives join the group, bringing along a number of unpleasant diseases.

NO WELCOME FOR DEFECTORS

Most of the numerous proposals regarding amnesty for young Americans who have fled to other countries to avoid military service during a time of national danger leave us with a sense of nausea and disbelief.

Perhaps the next step will be erection of a national monument honoring the memory of Benedict Arnold?

These young men have forfeited their rights to American citizenship by refusing to accept the responsibilities of that citizenship. To restore such unearned privilege would be to make a mockery of the sacrifices of all the men who have given themselves in battle over the years to gain and maintain the free American system and to suggest that all the dedicated citizen soldiers of our grand heritage were fools.

In our view, these draft-dodgers have, to all intents and purposes, committed the crime of treason. They have chosen to make international declarations that they do not believe in the government, the goals, the ideals or the people of the United States.

That they should desire to return, holding such views, is most remarkable. That they should expect to be received with forgiveness and praise is unbelievable.

Hothouse plants grown under the shelter of doting mothers' skirts and protected from every danger to which all free men are subject, they are well equipped to reside in some land where a king or dictator can make their decisions for them and where thinking individually or acting with personal initiative or making intelligent personal judgment are not among the requirements of citizenship.

These are not even prodigal sons returning home to ask forgiveness for their sins and extend promises of mending their erroneous ways. If this were the case, we might feel a bit more compassionate toward them.

Instead, they would return as heroes who defied the rules and laws which apply to everyone else and be hailed as leaders of a movement toward international peace.

On the contrary, if they are leaders of anything it is anarchy and the destruction of human dignity, goals which no true American ever will embrace.

They have exhibited a philosophy which could lead only to the ultimate enslavement of most of mankind.

Perhaps there is a place for them (and we have some unspeakable ideas about the identity of that place) but it certainly is not the United States of America.

Grant them full amnesty?

Better to deliver the keys to the White House direct to the Kremlin and extend our collective wrists to receive the chains of slavery, wherein there is no peace.

THE PARTIES CHANGING

More and more you hear it — the two party system is changing. Or ending.

There are a number of reasons given:

The old system of patronage is too weak to be meaningful any more — why even postmasters are no longer selected on a party basis;

Both parties promise the same things — the only difference is that each party claims it can deliver better than the other;

The Civil War is finally behind us — the generations of Democrats who voted their ticket just to be loyal to the South have mostly cooled down or died off;

Television has made it more possible for an independent candidate — or at least one not with the blessing of the party leaders— to compete in primaries and elections;

And other reasons.

Certainly, the old feelings of fierce party loyalty are not here anymore.

Abe Lincoln got one vote in Audrain County — and surprisingly that fellow was permitted to leave town alive;

Strong men wept when told one of their children who had moved north, had weakened and voted for a GOP candidate;

No longer do you hear a candidate described: "He may be a son of a - - - -, but he's our son of a - - - -."

The feeling, the emotion, the tone of party loyalty has changed.

So it may be true, the two parties are weakening and may even be disappearing.

However, we hope not.

We don't like some of the alternatives.

One would be a man on a white horse — a quasi dictator-type with strength in both parties. We join those many Americans who fear too much strength in too few hands.

Another alternative would be a true Labor Party and a true Conservative Party. That means when one is elected, the country goes far in their direction. For example, if a Labor Party is elected, steel is nationalized, transportation is, medical service is ... And once nationalized, un- nationalizing is almost impossible.

So we hope the two parties survive somewhat like they are. They have never been too good. But at the same time, they are better than some alternatives...

FISCAL FACTS

As you expected, the "debt limit" didn't limit federal debt. Debt rose, so the limit has been voted up to 450 billion dollars.

With the Republican President calling for more horrible deficit spending and Democratic Congress ready to spend even more, debt will quickly rise again. There will be a new demand for raising the debt limit next year.

Remember, it's your money; it's your debt; interest alone is costing more than 21 billion dollars a year. solution? Cut spending and balance the budget. — Chattanooga (Tenn.) News- Free Press

THIS IS PURE NONSENSE

We see that someone has jumped up with the suggestion that Missouri adopt a plan under which the two branches of the Legislature will be in session twelve months of each year.

Most Missourians, including the editor, will be against that.

They do not believe there is sufficient work at the legislative level to keep the Representatives and Senators busy twelve months each year.

With state finances as they now are, they do not believe it wise to ad millions of extra costs that would come with year- around sessions.

They also believe that more money would have to be paid to legislators who, if putting in full time, would have little if any time left for their regular occupations, as they now do. There is not even an estimate on this cost, nor on the possibility of getting good men for the full time job.

And- lastly, they believe that, if the Legislature now doesn't have the time it needs, it could find that time by working from early Monday through late Friday, as others in our state do, instead of the usual two or three day sessions weekly.

H E L P! THIS is a call for assistance from the "MEN" 20 years old and older, most of whom have served their country in time of war or in its military forces. We want you to write each of your United States senators and your congressman, asking them not to forgive those deserters and cowards who left their country when called upon for service. Some of them are deserters — some of them have gone to foreign countries just to escape doing the duty their American citizenship requires of them. We have written to both of our senators and to our congressman and as you will see by their letters, no one seems to be willing to take a stand against amnesty. That's why we're calling on you to add your voice to ours. What future does the United States have if a precedent is set permitting anyone to dodge their military duty?

When your arms are so tired that you can hardly lift your hands to come on guard, fight one more round. For a number of years, Andrew Carnegie made up the deficit for the N.Y. Philharmonic Society. Then, one year, at a meeting of the directors he balked, "I don't think this should be my responsibility he told the group. "You raise half the deficit from other donors and I'll give you the remaining half."

A few days later the chairman informed the philanthropist that the money had been raised. "Good!" Carnegie said. "Would you mind telling me where you got it?"

"Not at all," the chairman said. "We got it from Mrs. Carnegie."

DISARMAMENT TALKS AND SOVIET MISSILE BUILDUP

The Soviet Union is making good use of the SALT disarmament talks. The longer the talks go on, the greater becomes the Soviet missile strength. Writing in the American Security Council's Washington Report, Dr. Stefan Prossony, well-known authority on communist strategy and tacts, has pointed out the way the Soviets have used disarmament talks as a cover for their strategic arms buildup.

In 1968, the USSR had only 600 ICBMs, including fewer than 100 of their heaviest missile, the SS-9. By the time the second round of SALT talks began in 1970, the Soviet arsenal had grown to 1200. During each of the second, third, fourth and fifth rounds, the Soviets added another 100 missiles.

In the words of Dr. Possony: "The longer we talked the more missiles the Soviets built. At present, the USSR has nearly 1,600 ICBMs, including 300 SS-9s. Thus, while the American public was being told that the USSR was really 'serious' about arms limitation, the Soviets were actually serious about adding no less than 1,000 ICBMs."

In the space of two years, while the U.S. blindly negotiated for a disarmament agreement, the Soviets augmented their missile force by a number equal to our entire Minuteman force.

The only sensible course for us now is to break off the SALT talks and build up our own missile forces to at least keep pace with our enemy's. Dr. Possony urges the President to "resolutely silence that anit-defense clique with the overpowering arguments which are at his disposal" -- the clear evidence of growing U.S. military weakness coupled with increasing Soviet strength.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bashing her film husband over the head with a poker "really isn't my scene," actress Joan Collins says wryly of her role in her first, and she claims, her last horror movie.

Miss Collins, who looks lovely as she calmly commits bloody murder in one of the five segments making up "Tales from the Crypt," described her part in the film as "murdering my husband and then running around looking frightened while being attacked and murdered myself by a homicidal maniac wearing a Santa Claus suit. Good, clean, simple fun!"

The attractive actress says she has turned down offers to appear in other horror films because "I find it very difficult to keep a straight face while doing the sort of theatrics that are required in this type of film."

In "Tales," she points out, "I murder my husband for his insurance by hitting him over the head with a poker. That's ludicrous. I'd have to be built like King Kong to have hit him hard enough to kill him.

"That's what I mean about horror films. None of it makes sense. But if one is an actor one just goes ahead and does the job. Actually, I think everyone should do something once, and as far as horror goes I've just done it."

The British actress, former wife of actor Anthony Newley and now married to producer Ronald Kass, says, "I'd much rather be on television, which in England is very good. Actually I do appear on TV with monotonous regularity. They show some of my old movies and reruns of some of the TV series I worked in.

Miss Collins' movie credits include: "The Virgin Queen," "The Girl on the Red Velvet Swing," "Island in the Sun," and "Rally Round the Flag Boys." She says she hopes to act later this year in a television production of "The Taming of the Shrew."

She says she prefers to appear on television rather than in films because "in TV there is not so much emphasis on technique, of playing it exactly as the director wants you to play it.

"I think I learned more from a half dozen TV shows than I did from 15 or 20 movies because on TV I was left to my own devices a great deal. I was left free to experiment with different ways of doing things. In films, you know, you are pretty much the puppet of the director."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON -- Hubert Humphrey's confidential political papers suggest that the showdown for the Democratic presidential nomination will be fought in California, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

This, at least, is the view of his chief political scout, the veteran Ken O'Donnell, who once belonged to the late President John F. Kennedy's tight, little braintrust.

In a memo to Humphrey stamped "Personal and Confidential," O'Donnell contends: "The four big ones are Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and California. These are the states which determine national elections, and beating Muskie in these states will determine the nomination.

"And it is right here – in these states-- that your strength with labor will tell ....Your strength in the labor movement is rapidly consolidating and will be the determining factor in the major primaries, in the big industrial states."

O'Donnell also believes that President Nixon can be beaten. "Despite Nixon's favorable rating at this time with the public, and occasional short-time recoveries his polls show a steady, long-term deterioration," O'Donnell argues.

"There is no reason to expect that he can reverse such a three-year trend. He will be weaker, not stronger, by next Fall.

"I would continue to concentrate my fire on him. He is the target," O'Donnell urges Humphrey. "You have the basic issue -- which is jobs and inflation -- the two problems that he is making no progress solving."

WISCONSIN WORRY

In another internal memo, Humphrey urges his campaign managers not to be 'deluded" by favorable soundings in Wisconsin.

"We did well in Florida...," writes Humphrey. "The task in Wisconsin will be be much more difficult.

''Wisconsin is not 'Humphrey territory.' In spite of what you may be telling the press or the press may be telling its readers, Wisconsin is an independent state with independent voters.

"They resent anybody taking the state for granted, particularly someone from Minnesota. It's also a state where there traditionally has been a large Republican crossover in the primaries....

"I believe that Ed Muskie has done very effective work and, as of this moment, is strongly in the lead in the seventh congressional district around Wausau.

"(George) McGovern will be very strong in the agricultrual part of western Wisconsin, and I believe the third and tenth congressional districts will be hard fought by him and that he may very well, as of this moment, be in the lead in both of those districts.

"The sixth and eighth congressional districts strike me as strong Muskie, as well as Wallace territory.

"Our best prospects are in the industrial areas, the first, fourth and fifth congressional districts around the Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha areas. But here we've got to understand that Ed Muskie will be very strong. There is a heavy Polish-American constituency in that area....

"I don't want to sound pessimistic, and I don't believe in pessimism, but It's important we all be realistic...I don't care what the press say about our chances, it's important that we in our own political organization understand the facts."

GUARD DUTY

As the runt of the military litter, the Coast Guard has only one reservist on Capital Hill. He is Sen. Claiborne Pell, the aristocratic Democratic from Rhode Island.

Until recently, there was also a Coast Guard man on the House side. He was Charles E. Chamberlain, a Republican from Michigan and a former captain in the Coast Guard reserve.

Chamberlain's military record, which we have obtained, shows how far the armed services will go to keep their Capitol Hill brass hats happy.

On May 5, 1966, Chamberlain rode down to the Potomac River and watched a change-of -command ceremony aboard a Coast Guard cutter. He was awarded promotion and retirement credits for his effort.

Later that summer, Chamberlain toured resort cities along the Atlantic coast from Massachusetts to Virginia. He inspected six Coast Guard stations along the way and was awarded six reserve points.

On 19 occasions last year, Chamberlain hopped a taxi to the Pentagon for Navy briefings. He was credited with 19 points.

Chamberlain also got official credits for presenting awards, attending NATO meetings and "assisting with public relations projects."

Chamberlain finally retired from the active reserve last November. He is still a congressman, however, and he is still doing what he always did -- he is protecting the Coast Guard, if not the coast.

Fair Housing Bill Wins First Round Approval From Senate

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A fair housing bill won first round approval in the Missouri Senate Tuesday on a 17-15 vote. That is one short of the 18 that would be needed to pass it later.

First the bill must run the gamut of the Sente Budget Control Committee because its cost is estimated at $125,000. That would make its chances for passage by both houses dubious this late in the session.

The bill by Sen. Raymond Howard, D-St. Louis, one of the Senate's two black members, would require the owner or lessor of residential property to sell or lease to anyone regardless of race, creed, color, religion or national origin. But the owner could choose between offers if he had several bona fide offers to buy or rent.

If a person felt he was discriminated against, he could file a complaint with the Missouri Human Rights Commission. If he still felt aggrieved, he could bring a court action asking for actual and punitive damages.

If the complainant failed to win in court, he would be liable for all the costs and attorney fees.

The bill was criticized as "slapped together" and poorly drafted but Howard said it was modeled after a city of St. Louis ordinance and would serve the purpose.

He said it was the first time in more than 100 years of statehood that such a bill had been debated in the Senate.

He said the purpose was to guarantee that "anybody who has the money has a right to buy or rent a home in the neighborhood of his choosing."

He said the problem has been ignored in Missouri for over a hundred years.

"When you relegate people to little pockets," he said, "you create slums, ghettoes, crime and unhealthy conditions."

Also advanced to position for passage was a bill demanded by the federal government to keep Missouri's welfare laws in compliance with federal regulations.

It would require a welfare recipient to be kept on the rolls until his eligibility was decided after a formal hearing. The estimated cost the first year for hearing referees is $95,000.

Dowd Decries Busing Talk In Campaign

KENNETT, Mo. (AP) — Edward L. Dowd, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said today busing was not a pertinent issue in the Missouri political campaign.

"This is a federal constitutional question. Candidates for governor should not be dragging this issue by the heels into a political campaign," he said in remarks prepared for a Kiwanis Club luncheon in Kennett.

"It is unfortunate that candidates for state office are marking the education of our children a political football," Dowd said.

ADC-U Reinstatement Clears Another Hurdle

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Advocates of the ADCU program—extending Aid to Dependent Children benefits to families with unemployed fathers living at home—cleared another hurdle Tuesday night.

The Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee approved the measure to reinstate the program which had been in effect on a trial basis for three years until last Dec. 31.

The Senate deleted a provision from the House-passed bill that would have required ADC fathers to accept any employment offered on local public works projects for a $2 an hour pay credit.

But it still requires that recipients accept either appropriate jobs or job training or forfeit the $33 a month allowance. That provision was expanded by the committee to include part-time work.

The next step is clearance of the Senate Budget Control Committee. Then, if it passes the full Senate, the bill will have to be returned to the House for approval of the changes.

The committee also approved a bill to expand Medicaid benefits to cover the cost of eye examinations, but not glasses.

Another recommended change would relax the eligibility requirements for benefits under most state welfare programs.

House Kills 4 Bills In Quick Order

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri House killed four bills in quick succession Tuesday. But on two of them the vote was so close the sponsors may try to get them reconsidered later.

A bill to let the liquor control supervisor put license holders on probation for violations died 81-66, giving it just one less than the number of affirmative votes needed for House passage.

Now the supervisor either suspends or revokes a liquor or beer license for any law violation.

Also killed on a close vote was a bill to let towns or villages levy a tax on public utilities to finance a solid waste disposal system. It died 79-63.

Opponents called it a camouflage and subterfuge. tax levies on utilities are just passed on to the consumers—the local taxpayers, they said.

Also defeated were bills to:

Require the assessment of the merchants and manufacturers tax on goods held Jan. 1, rather than at the high point between Jan. 1 and April 1. Opponents said the inventories are at the year's low point Jan 1, just after the Christmas sales. The vote was 62-85.

Permit a person who has been convicted of a liquor law violation to get a new license in the liquor business if he can obtain a full pardon from his conviction. The vote was 59-87.

Passed and sent to the Senate were bills to:

Let counties designate someone to receive reports of fires and check the possibility of arson. It was a substitute for a more costly fire marshal bill.

Revise the Urban Redevelopment Act.

Exempt the income of a minor who is attending school in checking the eligibility of the family for welfare assistance.

Require that the assessor notify the property owner of any assessed valuation change.

Put the civil employes of the Kansas City Police Department in the same retirement plan as other civil employes of the city are.

Monday the House gave tentative approval to a bill boosting the state gasoline tax from 5 cents a gallon to 7 cents.

PARENTS OF THE NEW MADRID COUNTY R1 ENLARGED SCHOOL DISTRICT

May I call your attention to the move that is being made by the power structure of the County to defeat one candidate in the upcoming school election. Never have we seen such effort by the politicians, and launched so openly, in an attempt to take total control of the School system.

It would not be a victory for the children of the district if the machine politicians are successful in their effort to do this. It would not be a victory for the children of the district if the people of the district allow this to happen. Holy Week Tragic Time on Highways

JEFFERSON CITY — The Missouri State Highway Patrol reported today that Holy Week, the eight-day period from Palm Sunday through Easter Sunday, is usually a tragic time on Missouri highways.

Patrol records show that a total of 184 people have died in Missouri traffic accidents over the past five years during Holy Week. Last year, 34 traffic deaths were recorded in the State during that particular period. The most tragic day in that week was Good Friday when nine persons were killed in vehicular mishaps.

Col. E. I. (Mike) Hockaday, Superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, urged both drivers and pedestrians to be extra cautious during Holy Week. He reminded drivers to watch for pedestrians who may be walking to special church services. Pedestrians were urged to cross streets only at corners or crosswalks.

"Many people will be traveling to visit families and friends during the Easter Sunday weekend," Hockaday stated. "That will mean heavy traffic on all Missouri highways. It is imperative that motorists use extra caution through this period and accept their moral responsibility.

"The Easter Holy Week traffic death toll can be held to a minimum," the Colonel concluded," if all motorists obey all traffic laws and use common sense."

Innovations To Aid Rural Area Growth Urged

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) – Innovations such as agriculturalindustrial parks and agricultural-vocational schools could alleviate part of the problem forcing rural Missourians to urban areas, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Edward L. Dowd contended Tuesday night.

"What the rural areas need more than anything else is a commitment, a firm commitment from their state government that everything will be done to make their regions attractive and prosperous places to live," Dowd said.

Agricultural-industrial parks, he added, could encourage industrial and manufacturing firms to process raw materials near where they are produced.

Baby Three Months Premature Grows

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — At 9 pounds, 10 ounches, sixmonth-old Christopher Michael Moore is unusually small.

But in the eyes of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore of Kansas City, Kan., he's something of a giant — especially compared to his birth size Sept. 4.

Christopher was born three months prematurely and weighed 1¹ ½ pounds.

Dr. Herbert Davis, pediatrician, and Dr. James Bickley, obstetrician, the family's doctors, say Christopher was the smallest baby to survive in their experiences.

During his first three and one-half months the baby lived in a unit designed to simulate as much as possible the mother's body and was fed from a tube inserted into his stomach through his nose.

Mrs. Moore says she was not permitted to hold him until three months after he was born.

PRIEST SHORTAGE

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) Cardinal John Wright, head of the Vatican's Congregation for the Clergy, said here that the shortage of priests is "the greatest and most urgent problem" facing the church.

Quertermous-Smith

CHARLESTON — On March 4 at 7:30 p.m. Miss Debra Lynn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Smith of Charleston, and Kenneth Wayne Quertermous, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Quertermous, also of Charleston, were married in the First Baptist Church in Charleston with the Rev. H. W. Chaney officiating.

The wedding rings were designed and handmade by the bride. They were wide silver bands with silver wire looping across the top, and engraved with their initials and date.

Prior to the ceremony the candles were lighted by Tom and Jerry Smith, brothers of the bride. During the ceremony Orville Almon, accompanied by Miss Susan Brown at the organ, sang "More." Following the ceremony, Almon sang " The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt in prayer. Miss Brown played the theme from "Romeo and Juliet" for the attendants to enter and the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional, and a selection of wedding music, including the theme from "Love Story" while the guests were being seated.

The bride chose for her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Vici Smith, with her younger sister, Janet, a junior bridesmaid. The other bridesmaids were Miss Linda Redmond of Hempstead, N.Y., Mrs. Rick Batey of Jonesboro, Ark., and Miss Frances ue Moran of Charleston.

Miss Suellen Solomon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Solomon of Cairo, served as flower girl.

The bride, escorted down the white carpeted aisle on the arm of her father, chose for her wedding a floor length gown of silk faille featuring a high neckline and long tapered sleeves. The neckline was trimmed with rows of French lace centered with small pale pink embroidered roses. This extended down the front of the dress and around the hem.

Her chapel length tiered veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet styled headpiece of silk organza. She carried a long bouquet of daisies, carnations and and pom-pons. The bride and her father paused on the way to the altar to present her mother with an American Beauty rose. During recessional the groom presented his mother with an American Beauty rose.

Kirk Chronister of Poplar Bluff served as his uncle's best man. The other groomsmen were Kent Chronister, Denny Ray Quertermous and Tim Fletcher, all nephews of the groom. Ushers were Keith Quertermous and Tom and Jerry Smith.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church with Mrs. James Moran as hostess.

Joey Quertermous and Mrs. John Holt presided at the refreshment table. Mrs. Larry Tharnish attended the guest register.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Fort Walton Beach, Fla. After a week's trip, they are now at home at 306a East Marshall.

Mrs. Quertermous received her B.S. in Education with an art major from Southeast Missouri State College in January of this year. She has been substitute teaching in the Charleston schools following her graduation.

Quertermous graduated in 1970 from Southeast Missouri State College with a degree in business administration. He is presently employed with his father and brothers in the construction business.

Caged Cat Upsets Animal Lover

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't tell me to MYOB. I love animals --- especially cats. What I see happening next door is breaking my heart. The young couple has a beautiful Angora. Prince Albert was so majestic and grand looking that I couldn't take my eyes off him. The couple had their first child six weeks ago. They heard somewhere that cats sometimes jump into the cribs of infants and smother them to death. So they had a cage made for Prince Albert, and there he is --- cramped and miserable. I believe the poor creature is dying of solitary confinement and lack of love. His fur isn't nearly as fluffy and pretty as it once was. He seems so lifeless and sad.

I think it is criminal that this couple should be hung up on an old wives' tale and the poor cat has to suffer for their ignorance. I have offered to find a home for Prince Albert but they don't don't want to part with him. I hate to call the Humane Society and report my neighbors. What should I do? --- Compassion For All Living Things.

Dear Compassion: Call the Humane Society and ask them to send someone out to talk to the couple. Perhaps if they knew the facts they could be persuaded to let Prince Albert out of the can.

Dear Ann Landers; I'm a young woman in my late 20s who holds a very responsible job. When I was in college (age 19) I contracted V.D. I went to a doctor, took treatments and was cured. That experience was such a traumatic one that I refused to date for several years. I felt unworthy of a decent relationship. I developed such a guilt complex that it darn near wrecked my life.

Six months ago I began to go with a very fine person. He is talking about marriage and I am very much interested. But I'm scared to death that I might not pass the blood test. Someone told me that once a person has had syphillis it will show up in a standard Wasserman. Is this true? I would rather die than have it known that I once had V.D. If we went to Canada or Mexico to be married would we need a blood test? Please give me some advice, Ann. I can't discuss this with anyone who knows me. If I start to ask questions I might reveal my anxiety. --- Carbondale Headache

Dear Carb: A person who has been cured of syphillis will not flunk his Wasserman. It seems to me, however, that you should have had periodic blood tests to make certain there has been no recurrence. I urge you to go to your doctor or to the City or County Health Department at once. If you get an all-clear (and I'm betting you will), say yes --- and the best of luck to you both.

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to comment on the letter signed "Bittersweet" --- the college girl who agreed to a live-in arrangement with a fellow --- "no rings, no strings." She was broken hearted because she was sure the fellow would marry her after a year of the "trial setup," but she was mistaken.

I wish I could trade places with Bittersweet. My live-in guy married me because I made such a scene he was afraid I'd kill myself --- or him.

The marriage was disaster. After six months I was glad to be rid of him. There's a moral here: No marriage is worth a damn unless both people want it. --- Just Bitter.

Dear Just: Yeah --- and even then it can be a disaster. Thanks for writing.

THEY LAUGHED WHEN I SAID I COULD LOSE WEIGHT

says Mrs. Ken Schmidt of Norfolk, Neb.

"I was bulging fat. I weighed 205 lbs., ashamed to go swimming or play tennis. Then I heard about X-11 Reducing Plan. When I decided to take off that ugly fat, my friends laughed at me. They said it couldn't be done because they all know how I like to eat."

I LOST 80 LBS.

"Today, my weight is down to 125 pounds. Now even the friends who laughed at me don't recognize me right away. Sometimes they pass me by and then turn around and call me back, I smile, because they just can't believe it's the same old Marge.

NOW YOU, TOO, CAN

EAT WELL ...and lose that fat!

The X-11 Reducing Plan is not a crash or starvation diet. You eat less, but you won't go around hungry. That's because this is a sound method to curb the appetite and still eat 3 satisfying, sensible meals a day — plus snacks. No longer will you be the prisoner of the evereating habit. You eat less — want less. You lose weight . . . while you eat well.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR MONEY BACK

You have nothing to lose but pounds and inches. So hurry in for the X-11 Reducing Plan. If the first package doesn't work for you, simply return the empty package for an immediate refund. No questions asked.

JOHN MARK

The earliest account of the life of Jesus Christ is ascribed to John Mark, author of the Gospel of Mark. He was a son of Mary, a woman who hosted several meetings of the apostles following the Resurrection on Easter morning. Mark was in the position to gain firsthand the experiences and accounts of those who knew Jesus. Other traditions hold that he was near during the arrest of Jesus on Maunday Thursday, escaping the soldiers who grabbed his clothes rather than him. The care and diligence of Mark's literary resource gave aid to other gospel writers. In later years Mark spent considerable time with St. Peter and died a martyr to the cause he represented.

A little boy was fishing on a pond
Hoping to catch a cat fish or a drum
And then he said them old fish,
They must be dumb or they would take on that big fat worm
And then he said oh how I wish I could catch one
For that would be better than none--
And then a fish took on the worm
And sure enough he caught just one.

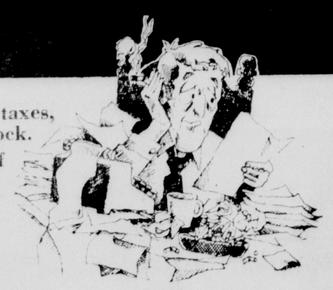
An important message for people who prepare their own income tax returns.
Maybe you've been cheating yourself all these years.


You see, when it comes to income taxes, amateurs should depend on H & R Block.
We'll sit you down over a free cup of coffee and show you some things about your income tax that you might never have known existed. For example, do you know all about deductions for child care or casualty losses? And maybe you aren't aware that if your income increased last year, you may be able to save tax dollars by "income averaging."
Well, when it comes to income taxes, H & R Block is aware of just about everything.
H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million families we served last year.

City Employe Can Be Klan Official

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Obie was a grand dragon of the Klu Klux Klan and did nothing to conceal his identity as such when he was hired as a city dispatcher. Despite the fact that he performed his job efficiently and engaged in no klan activity on city time, certain city officials subsequently decided that his being a grand dragon wasn't so grand and had him bounced from his job because of his klan membership. Without ado, Obie demanded his job back in court.

"Just becaust I'm a member of the Klu klux Klan," he argued, "is no reason to fire me. After all, I don't go to work in a white sheet and, while I'm on the job, I'm no different than anybody else."

"That's not true," responded several city officials. "While he may not come to work in a hood, everybody knows it's there whether they can see it or not. And, it just doesn't look good for a city to employ a man who stands for what he tries to get others to fall for."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order the city to give Grand Dragon Obie back his job?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a man may not be fired from a city job because of his membership in the Kly Klux Klan so long as he performs his job properly and without effort to further the purposes of the klan. Klansmen, noted the judge, are no more disqualified from holding public employment than is a Presbyterian or a Black Panther or a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy or of the Daughters of the American Revolution or the American Legion or the NAACP.

Free thought and debate, concluded the judge, guaranteed by the Constitution, prevents public authorities from discharging public employes merely because of views and associations of which they do not approve. (Based upon a 1971 United States District Court Decision)

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH

Four U.S. stamps, featuring overlapping silhouettes of athletes, will salute the Olympic Games. They will be issued in Washington, D.C. Aug. 17, preceding the summer games to be held in Munich, Germany.

The four denominations — 6 cents, 8 cents, 11 cents and 15 cents — will depict an adaptation of the official symbol of four sports: cycling, bobsled racing, skiing and track.

According to the U.S. Postal Service, the denominations reflect the geographical scope of the Olympics. Three of the stamps are for postal rates effective in the U.S., Canada and Mexico (6 cents for postal cards, 8 cents for surface letters and 11 cents for air mail). The 15 center is for the surface letter rate and air mail post card rate beyond the U.S., Canada and Mexico.

On the upper left corner of each stamp is the word "U.S." superimposed over the five interlocking circle symbol of the Olympics. Across the bottom of the skiing and bobsledding stamps is the inscription "XI Olympic Winter Games — Sapporo 1972", while the wording on the track and cycling stamps is "XX Olympic Summer Games — Munich 1972."

The designer of the stamps is Lance Wyman whose work is being seen for the first time on U.S. adhesives although he has produced 39 stamp designs for Mexico.

First day cover collectors may send their requests prior to Aug. 17 but will be reminded again with specific particulars in this column.

Looking ahead to 1973, the U.S. Postal Service has announced that there will be a commemorative stamp to honor the 500th anniversary of the birth of Nicolaus Copernicus, Polish astronomer. Also reported is the resumption of the Historic Preservation Series and the American Painting Series in 1973. The Bicentennial Series will have a special issue next year as well.

Coming up this year on the U.S. stamp schedule is an 8-cent commemorative to mark the 100th anniversary of the mail order business and also a commemorative to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the National Parent-Teachers Association. Designs and dates will be given soon.

Washington Report | By Senator Symington

EQUAL RIGHTS AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- It is my belief that women as well as men should have the right to seek those situations in life for which, as individuals, they are qualified. This concept is at the core of the Equal Rights Amendment which recently received overwhelming approval by the Senate and has now been sent to the states for ratification as the 27th Amendment to the Constitution. The House passed the proposed amendment last October.

The proposed amendment states: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state on account of sex."

If approved by three-fourths of the State legislatures within the next seven years, the Equal Rights Amendment will then become a part of our Constitution but would not become effective until two years after ratification by the States.

Inasmuch as state laws govern many matters which would be affected by the Amendment, such as laws relating to marriage, grounds for divorce, property rights of widows and widowers and presumptions as to the parent preferred for child custody, the ratification process will afford an excellent and needed opportunity for the states to consider how present laws will be molded to conform to the greater realities of today's families and how they may be mady to conform to the proposed Constitutional amendment. Among other laws which would also be affected are these:

* In some states women are not legally permitted to handle property and start businesses on an equal basis with men.

* Discriminatory practices in state institutions, such as state colleges and graduate schools, and hiring and promoting in public schools and colleges as well as state and local government jobs.

* Statutes in some states impose heavier prison sentiences on women than men for the same criminal offense.

* Selective Service Law. Equal rights also mean equal responsibilities, and thus women would no longer be exempt from the draft.

In its application to military service, the amendment, however, would not require women to undertake military tasks for which they as individuals might not be suited, just as all men do not meet the standards required for induction or for particular assignments.

While women now volunteer and serve in the military service, they do so under limitation as to number; also educational and age requirements are different for women than for men.

By affording women equal responsibilities with men, women are assured of the same benefits in the military service. There are educational benefits under the GI bill, employment preferences inside and outside Government for veterans and also special advantages in home loans.

I voted for the Equal Rights Amendment in the belief that it is a symbol, needed now, to assure that the fundamental law of the United States will afford men and women an equal opportunity for growth as individuals in accordance with their desires and capacities.

PAUL THE MISSIONARY

The author of much suppression and imprisonment of the young Christian church became its chief writer and architect: St. Paul. A bright, zealous advocate of traditional Judaism, a strong member of the Pharisees, Paul had dogged the first Christians with his pursuit—threatening imprisonment and more. Yet Paul (known as Saul) did not keep his commitment to track down suspected Christians in Damascus. For on the road, he had a vision of the Lord who asked, "Why do you persecute me, Saul?"

Temporarily blinded, Saul was baptized "Paul," soon to become a world leader of the Christian faith. St. Paul represents those millions of believers who never met Jesus in the "flesh" but came to know Him in the Spirit. His journeys roamed across the known world and his letters to new and growing churches make up the largest single bloc of material in the New Testament.

The Sikeston Bulldogs baseballers helped Jackson open its season Tuesday afternoon with darkness the eventual winner. The game had to be called after five innings with the score tied 3-3.

The Indians put on a last inning rally to pull into a tie and avert their first loss of the season by scoring one run in the last of the fifth. The Bulldogs had forged ahead in the top of the frame.

Bob Blankenship started on the mound for the Bulldogs but had to give way in the bottom of the fifth after Kenny Stokes' pinch hit for him. Richard Blankenship finished the game for Sikeston. Bazzell did the Indian pitching chores and went five innings.

Jackson began scoring in the second. Neither team could cross the plate in the first. Sikeston was unable to make any progress in the second. The Indians pushed across a lone run in the inning and led 1-0 until the Bulldogs rallied to tie the game in the third.

With two on, Jim Saulters singled to knock in the tying run. Jackson came back in the fourth to go ahead, 2-1.

Sikeston battled back in the fifth to push across two more runs and take a 3-2 lead. Rick Eisenbach and Greg Colwick singled before Rick Dyer delivered the game's only extra base hit — a double — to drive in two runs. Jackson solved the relief, pitching to tie the game as darkness set in.

Sikeston will tangle with Kelly at VFW stadium Monday afternoon in a makeup game.

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — The New England Patriots of the National Football League have traded outside linebacker Ed Philpott to the San Diego Chargers for a middle-round draft choice next year.

Philpott, the Patriots' secondround selection in the 1967 draft, did not play much last season and expressed a desire to be traded.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Defending champion Sandra Haynie of Dallas heads the list of nearly 20 golfers signed up so far to play in the 1972 Alamo Open April 26-30.

The highest scoring pro throughout the day was Harry Smith, a Rochester, N.Y., veteran, who holds 10 titles. Smith registered games of 212, 268 and 269 for a total of 749.

Johnny Petraglia, of Brooklyn, N.Y., the defending Firestone champion, rolled twice in the pro-am. In his second attempt came up with a 736 set on games of 235, 246 and 255, giving him fourth place.

Cards Bow To And Wowed By Pirates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Robertson won instant fame in the 1971 World Series as the world's longest bunter. Now, he's trying to win acclaim as a spring training blaster— and without the bunt sign.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' first baseman hit a home run against Baltimore last October to win a Series' game. He didn't know until he had circled the bases that Manager Danny Murtaugh had signaled for a sacrifice.

Robertson homered twice against St. Louis Tuesday for a 6-2 exhibition baseball victory. It was the second time within a week he slugged two homers in a game. The pair against the Cards gives him five for the spring training games and 16 runs batted in.

In other games, Cincinnati topped Houston 7-3, Baltimore routed Texas 6-1, Detroit nipped the New York Mets 5-4, Philadelphia edged the Chicago White Sox 3-2, Los Angeles trimmed the New York Yankees 6-5, Minnesota and Boston tied 3-3 in a contest stopped by rain, California beat Oakland 61, the Chicago Cubs downed San Diego 8-6, Cleveland defeated San Francisco 6-2, Milwaukee clipped the Cleveland "B" team, 5-3, and the Montreal Expos beat the Atlanta Braves 5-4 in 10 innings.

Denis Menke homered and Joe Morgan and Cesar Geronimo each drove in runs for Cincinnati. All three are former Houston Astros, taking a little preseason revenge.

Bobby Grich doubled in two runs in the third inning and Andy Etchebarren homered for two more Baltimore runs.

Mets' pitcher Brent Strom's balk gave Detroit its winning run with the bases loaded in the 10th inning after homers by Al Kaline and Bill Freehan in the ninth had tied the game.

Greg Luzinski's homer in the ninth inning gave the Phillies their victory over Chicago. Don Money had homered earlier for Philadelphia.

Willie Davis' homer in the eighth broke the Dodgers' 5-5 tie with the Yankees. New York scored four unearned runs in the first inning and Los Angeles came back for two unearned runs in the third.

A two-run homer by Harmon Killebrew pulled Minnesota into a tie with Boston and the game was called because of rain after eight innings.

The Cubs scored five runs in the eighth inning, then Carmine Fanzone homered in the ninth to defeat San Diego. Del Unser homered for two runs for Cleveland, which beat San Francisco.

Dave May's three-run homer was the big blast in Milwaukee's five-run seventh inning against the Cleveland "B" team.

Jim Fairey's run-producing single gave the Expos their triumph over Atlanta.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Amateur Athletic Union will decide within a week where to hold the first junior track meet with the Soviet Union, an AAU spokesman said Tuesday.

He said Sacramento, Calif.; Los Angeles and El Paso, Tex., have offered sites for the event July 28-29.

LONDON (AP) -- One new player, Jill Cooper, was included in a five- girl team named today as Britain's Wightman Cup tennis squad to face the United States.

The other four were Virginia Wade, Mrs. Joyce Williams, Winnie Shaw and Nell Truman.

Britain is scheduled to meet the United States for the Wightman Cup at Wimbledon June 16-17.

Tiger Win Opens SEMO Conference

CAPE GIRARDEAU — The Central High School Baseball Tigers opened their drive to defend the SEMO Conference Tuesday night by downing Notre Dame, 3-0.

The Tigers were restricted to only three hits during the game including a triple by Troy Vieth and a double by Greg Best. Vieth was the hitting star collecting two.

Notre Dame Pitcher Ken Buessink struck out six and gave only one walk. Hitting was ligh. John Klipfel had the only two hits of the night for the Bulldogs.

Cape Central's Greg Best batted in two runs with a double in the fourth. In fifth, Ken Hosea sacrificed to bring in the other run of the game for thy Tigers.

Nets, Squires Battle For Second

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets won two games Tuesday night—theirs and Virginia's.

New York closed out its regular season with a 92-86 victory over the Indiana Pacers, while the Virginia Squires dropped a 127-121 decision to the Carolina Cougars.

As a result, the Nets pulled within one half-game of Virginia in the race for second place in the American Basketball Association's East Division. The Squires wind up their regular schedule at Memphis tonight.

If Virginia loses tonight, the teams will finish in a tie with 44-40 won-loss records. A onegame playoff would be held to determine the second place finisher.

What's the difference between finishing second and third?

The difference is in firstround playoff opponents, and its a big difference.

The second place finisher will meet the Floridians, who assured themselves of a playoff berth Tuesday night by beating Memphis 118-107 and clinching fourth place in the ABA East.

The team that finishes third, meanwhile, has the dubious honor of drawing the Kentucky Colonels, the club with the best record in the entire ABA, as a first-round opponent.

In other ABA games, Dallas edged Utah 98-95 and Kentucky nipped Pittsburgh 134-132.

In opening games of the National Basketball Association Western Conference playoffs, Golden State upset Milwaukee 117-106 and Los Angeles defeated Chicago 95-80.

The Nets did their part in the battle for second place by beating Indiana. Now they can just hope Memphis beats Virginia tonight.

John Roche starting at guard in place of Bill Melchionni, out with a broken hand, scored 22 points for the Nets, but the high man was Rick Barry, who celebrated his 28th birthday by scoring 32 points.

Roger Brown was high scorer for the Pacers with 23 points and center Mel Daniels added 22.

Wendell Ladner hit a jump shot with 45 seconds to go, breaking a late tie and sparking Carolina to victory over the Squires. Larry Miller was Carolina's high scorer with 29 points.

Despite their victory, the Cougars were eliminated from the playoff picture when the Floridians defeated Memphis.

Warren Jabali tallied 30 points, Larry Jones 25 and Willie Long 21 for the Floridians, while Randy Denton was high man for Memphis with 21.

Donnie Freeman scored 19 points, Rich Jones 17 and George Johnson 13 to pace Dallas. It broke a string of 34 games in which Freeman had scored at least 20 points.

Dan Issel paced Kentucky with 29 points and broke an ABA single season scoring record with 2,525 points in 82 games. That's one more than Charlie Scott of Virginia had in 73 games before jumping to Phoenix of the NBA. Issel has one regular season game remaining.

... Eagles Over Bobcats

DELTA — Coach Joe Scott's Oran Eagles opened their 1972 baseball season with an impressive win over the Bobcats, 6-2, Tuesday afternoon in a Scott-Miss conference game.

Lonnie Mobley collected the only two hits which Rick Irwin allowed in his opening game win.

Oran collected nine hits with Hahn, Mike Legrand, and Gary Shaffer smashing two apiece. Shaffer hit a triple.

Delta jumped into a 1-0 lead in the first but was unable to score another run until the sixth after the Eagles had put the game away with four runs in the fifth.

The Eagles came back to tie the game in the second on two hits. Oran added another run in the third on two more hits. The Eagles plated four runs in the fifth on three hits. Martin took the loss for Delta.

The Chaffee Red Devils visit the Eagles next Tuesday at 4 p.m.

"Improvement Likely," Says Baltimore Manager

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles have won 318 regular season games and nine straight in the playoffs while sweeping to three straight American League pennants.

For 1972, Manager Earl Weaver sees likely improvement for the Orioles.

"There's no reason we should be any worse," Weaver said, "and chances are we'll be better."

Dave McNally, one of four Baltimore 20-game winners last year, was out of action 38 days. Boog Powell, the league's Most Valuable Player of 1970, hit below his weight at .256. Paul Blair, off to a slow start, managed to hit just .262.

Weaver, always optimistic and aggressive, doesn't expect such misfortune again.

The Orioles never won a pennant until outfielder Frank Robinson arrived, and then they won four in six seasons. But Robinson was dealt off to the Los Angeles Dodgers. So the rest of the team is on its own.

Baltimore, never known for standing pat, could open the season with seven newcomers on the 25-man roster, including five rookies up from Rochester.

They include infielder Bobby Grich, who hit .383 and .336 the past two years, and outfielder Don Baylor, .327 and .313 the last two seasons. Both are labeled as "can't miss" prospects.

Also moving up from a productive farm system are Roric Harrison, 15-5, and reliever Mickey Scott, 9-1, and catcher Johnny Oates.

Moving to Baltimore in the Robinson trade are Doyle Alexander, 6-6 with Los Angeles, and reliever Bob O'Brien.

Mr. C. L. Blanton, Jr.,
Publisher
THE STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri 63801

Dear Mr. Blanton:

The Missouri General Assembly now has before it a bill which would increase the state's motor vehicle fuel tax from its present five cents a gallon to seven cents a gallon. The bill is HB-1443, sponsored by Representatives Robert DeVoy of Brookfield and Richard DeCoster of Canton.

I urge your consideration of the bill -- and invite your editorial support of it if you find that the facts justify the increase. We believe they do, for the following reasons:

(1) The last increase in the state motor fuel tax came in 1962. Since then our costs of construction and maintenance have risen sharply. construction costs, for example, rose forty percent in one recent two- year period.

(2) Our income has not risen nearly fast enough to keep pace with costs because our income base, highway user taxes, is fixed. On present revenues, we are hard put to continue our present rate of progress, not to mention expanding it. Yet all indications are that by the turn of the new century, three cars and trucks will be trying to move over Missouri's streets and highways for every two which clog them now.

(3) Only Missouri and Texas still have a nickel- a- gallon tax. Missouri refunds one cent of its nickel to cities and counties for their street and highway projects.

(4) The proposed increase would retain the same twenty percent refund level to the cities and counties, with the cities and counties receiving 1.4 cents out of every seven cents collected. That's a 40 percent increase.

We feel Missourians need to know why the proposed two- cent- a- gallon increase in the motor fuel tax is needed, and that you are in the best position to tell them. We invite your questions, pro and con, on the matter. Any assistance we can give you in assembling the facts about our highway program and its costs is at your disposal.

Very truly yours,
Thomas A. David
DIRECTOR OF HIGHWAYS

To the Editor of the Daily Sikeston Standard:

I will be most appreciative if you will print the enclosed article in your "Daily Standard" within the next few days.

Most sincerely,
Mrs. N. Richards

Remember the days of yesteryear when the little town of Diehlstadt in Scott County was second to none in progressive activities for a place its size?

It had its share of professional men and women: doctors, bankers, teachers, ministers, judges and administrators.

It supported active churches with forceful preachers and church choirs made up of local people gifted with melodious voices. The church members were always in for a special treat when the doctor's wife joined the group. She was a product of a girls' finishing school in the East and had excelled in music.

During the time that the organ was a must in every home approximately 100 were sold in Diehlstadt and vicinity in a period of one year which alone tells us that the townspeople appreciated good music.

Many social gatherings were enjoyed in homes where group singing around the organ or piano, dancing, and tasty food were highlights of the evening.

As I reminisce I recall the prominent names of Julius Misfeldt, Dr. John F. Bagwell, Max L. Ostner, George Allen, the Ohmes families and many others who were loyal and dependable leaders of the vicinity.

In the good old summertime, ice cream socials were held in a community center where gallons and gallons of homemade ice cream and delicious "made from scratch" cakes were served the merrymakers.

Barbecues were another gala event. Ambitious men spent many hours preparing "done to a turn" pit barbecue to serve overflowing crowds who attended.

The chautauqua, the medicine show, and the circus made regular visits to Diehlstadt where they always found an eager and receptive audience

The passenger train was a Sunday attraction, and many gathered at the depot to await its arrival. They could not only purchase the Sunday newspaper there, but also enjoy a chat with friends and neighbors in the meantime. The friendly newsman on the train readily admitted that he sold more Sunday papers at Diehlstadt than at any other place on his run.

In watermelon season, Diehlstadt bustled with activity when miles and miles of horse drawn wagons, loaded with choice melons, traveled the sandy roads to town where the melons were loaded into box cars for shipment. At that time, Diehlstadt was a renowned railroad loading center. During this busy season, the town was always filled with watermelon buyers from the cities each trying to buy the finest for himself.

In 1915, Max L. Ostner, one of the extensive landowners in the community, erected a beautiful brick building which housed a thriving bank, post office, barber shop, grocery, and a department store where merchandise of superb quality could be purchased. There were well- stocked departments of hardware, furniture, housewares, shoes, china and cutglass, ready- to - wear, for both men and women, millinery, where beautiful hats were available for the ladies, bolts and bolts of fine fabrics, including the popular foulard, Georgette, and crepe de Chine.

Many customers from neighboring towns came to Diehlstadt to shop. City salesmen who were better known as drummers made regular calls to the stores to sell their wares.

In 1921, a new brick school building was erected which accommodated grades from kinder garten through high school. This will long remain in the memories of many boys and girls in both Scott and Mississippi counties for it was here they received a high school education.

During the depression years, Diehlstadt suffered along with the rest of the country and like most other places went through a period of deterioration. Within the last few years, however, there have been many worthwhile improvements made. The once sandy streets have been blacktopped, new street signs have been erected, vapor lights have been installed and a new city hall is under construction. Many new homes have been built, most of which have been constructed and sold by Paul Norman, building contractor.

In 1971, Terry L. Bagwell, son of Dr. John F. Bagwell, donated a portion of his town lots so that a street might be opened for public use because he felt it felt it was betterment of the town as well as for the people therein.

As a former resident of Diehlstadt and one who still maintains an interest and still thinks of it as home, I want the town to remain intact. I want to see it grow and to prosper. I do not want to give any part of it away.

Through the untiring efforts of leaders like Albert Crosno, Paul Norman, Grover Morrow, Kenneth Belt, Harvey Jones, Bob Chappell and others, Diehlstadt has a chance to retain its dignity.

You can help by cooperating with the present leaders of the town who are giving so freely of their time and of themselves in their efforts to keep a town alive.

Mrs. N. Richards

CONGRESS APPROVES MAJOR DRUG PREVENTION PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- In order to coordinate federal efforts in drug abuse prevention, the Congress has authorized programs involving more than $1 billion over the next three years.

The legislation, which has been sent to the President for signature, would establish for a three- year period a Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention to plan and supervise federal efforts relating to drug abuse education, training, treatment, rehabilitation and research. A Special Action Office with limited powers has existed since June under Executive Order.

The act also creates a National Institute on Drug Abuse within the National Institute of Mental Health December 31, 1974. After a transition period, the Institute will take over permanent federal drug prevention programs from the Special Action Office.

The Drug Abuse Office and Treatment Act represents the first major effort to pull together the fragmented federal programs related to drug abuse prevention, including those administered by the Departments of Health, Education and Welfare, Defense, and those of the Veterans Administration. It calls for the development within the next nine months of a comprehensive, long- term Federal strategy to deal with drug abuse prevention as well as drug traffic prevention which includes law enforcement and international drug control efforts. The strategy also shall include an analysis of the nature, characte;and extent of drug abuse in the United States.

The Director of the Special Action Office is responsible for overall planning and policy in federal drug abuse prevention efforts. To carry out these responsibilities, he is authorized to make recommendations to the President regarding law enforcement and drug traffic control, and to review and modify plans and budget requests to implement any federal drug abuse prevention program.

Under the Act, State governments are authorized to receive up to $130 million in technical assistance over the next three years through a system of formula grants to carry out drug abuse prevention programs.

The act also provides $350 million for special project grants to public and non- profit agencies and institutions. This would be used to develop drug prevention, treatment and rehabilitation programs for public and private employees, vocational counseling programs for persons in treatment programs, and programs to encourage employers to recruit persons emerging from treatment programs. Special project grants also may be used for treatment and rehabilitation programs in the criminal justice system, and to focus drug prevention programs on geographic areas.

Additional funds are provided for research to develop a block against the effects of heroin and to train personnel working in drug prevention programs.

In order to make treatment facilities available throughout the country, drug treatment and rehabilitation programs will be established in community mental health centers and public health service facilities.

DOUGHNUTS GALORE

AUCKLAND (AP) — A New Zealander, T.K. Mcguire, has designed a three-speed automatically controlled doughnut machine that can turn them out at the rate of 18, 27, or 36 dozen an hour. The machine works on the basis that a doughnut takes about 90 seconds to fry.

McGuire says he can supply overseas buyers with a machine for $1,610 which he says is a little more than half the cost of a one-speed American machine.

Bids Opened for New Fire Station

DEXTER -- Bids for construction of Dexter's new fire station were opened Monday night at the regular meeting of the Dexter City Council, and the CAD Plumbing and Heating Company, Inc., of Dexter was the apparent low bidder.

However, the low bid was considerably higher than the amount the city has available for the station. Construction of the station was approved by voters in a $75,000 bond issue, last August, which also included the purchase of a new fire pumper truck.

The fire truck, already purchased, cost nearly $39,000, leaving some $36,000 for building the station.

The low bid from CAD was $58,750 for a prefabricated steel building, and $62,000 for a prestressed concrete building.

Bidding was done on two types of building -- a prefabricated metal and prestressed concerte.

CAD's bid called for completion within 150 calendar days after starting work, as did the other two bids received. The other bids, apparently high, were from Brown Construction Company, Dexter and Rogers Construction Company Dexter.

Terry Howes, from the C. R. Trotter and Associates consulting engineeringfrim here, opened bids which were read aloud to the Council and contractors present for the bid opening.

Following the announcement that CAD was the apparent low bidder, Mayor Willis Conner and C. R. Trotter decided that negotiations would be necessary to see if the bid could be trimmed, or if some building construction could be done in stages instead of at one time.

Mayor Conner told the Council "we just don't have that kind of money to go over the bond issue amount, and something will have to be done."

Discussion revealed that part of the problem as far as construction contractors are concerned, is new Federal health and safety regulations. Many contractors feel that the new regulations will make all phases of construction more expensive, it was pointed out.

E. M. Stites, from the Stites Concrete, Inc., of Dexter, spoke to the Council on various facts about prestressed concrete, following the bid opening. Stites pointed out that concrete requires little or no maintenance, and is a permanent structure.

He urged the Council to give consideration to using prestressed concrete in building the fire station, to make Dexter "a leader in using prestressed concrete, which is manufactured right here in Dexter."

Mayor Conner told Stites that "every consideration" would be given to using the prestressed concrete type construction.

Following the bid opening, only two brief items were discussed, both dealing with litter and trash.

Mayor Conner read a petition signed by 13 residents living along Dexter Creek, in east Dexter, complaining of trash being dumped in the creek. Mayor Conner asked city Marshal Clay Baker to check out the situation and report back to the Council at the next meeting.

Ward Two Alderman Lehman Godwin relayed a complaint from Lemar Hicks to the Council. Hicks was complaining about junk and clutter in a vacant lot near his home. It was decided that a check would be made on the lot, and a letter will be written to the property owner from City Attorney Paul McGhee, warning that the lot needs to be cleaned.

The next regular meeting of the City Council will be April 3, the night before the city election April 4. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m., at the City Administration Building.

Cool Weather Will Continue

By LEONARD F. HAND
Farm Meteorologist

PORTAGEVILLE — Below normal temperature averages, and near normal precipitation totals are indicated for the Missouri Bootheel in the extended outlook for the period from mid- March through mid- April.

High pressure systems are expected to draw cold air more directly southward out of Canada into the United States. below normal temperature averages are slated for most of the region from the Great Plains to the Appalachians, including much of the Gulf coast region.

Cold fronts are more likely to deliver the bulk of our rainfall in the form of showers. Thundershower activity can be looked for quite regularly as cold and warm air trade places in the Mid- South. Deep penetration of cool air into the lower Mississippi Valley should tend to distribute heaviest rainfall totals to the south and east of the Bootheel.

In most of Southeast Missouri, Winter rains continue to be well spaced and in such amounts that field work has been interrrupted less than normal this year. Some melon ground was being turned the second week of March. A number of warm days in March pushed peaches ahead of schedule, with some pink showing on several varieties by mid- month. As usual, winds are generally high for best application of dormant sprays, with a few noteworthy exceptions.

The circulation pattern that gives us the most trouble with strong and persistent winds is when a broad flow extends in a nearly straight line from the southern Plains to the Ohio Valley. Deeper penetration of cool high pressure systems may give us more favorable wind conditions than usual this season. Forecasts and extended outlooks should be followed closely so that spray schedules can be adjusted to take maximum advantage of light winds.

Warm March weather may have brought Alfalfa Weevil emergence on a bit early this season. Farmers will want to watch their fields for signs of buildups justifying controls during this period. Look for days with blight winds and temperatures above 60 degrees for best results.

Prospects for below normal temperature averages keep alive the problem of frost as Spring gets underway. In two years out of ten, a moderate killing freeze (24 to 28 degrees) may occur as alate as March 16 in southern counties and April 10 to the north. A light killing freeze (shelter temperature 28 to 32 degrees) may occur with the same probability as late as April 10 in southern Bootheel Counties and April 20 across the northern fringe.

Normal rain for mid- March through mid- April for the Bootheel as a whole is 4.58 inches. Normals for individual cities are: Cape Girardeau 4.31 inches, Dexter 4.59 inches, Fisk 4.47 inches, New Madrid 4.60 inches, Poplar Bluff 4.50 inches, Caruthersville 4.54 inches, Doniphan 4.49 inches, Morehouse 4.51 inches, Parma 4.46 inches and Sikeston 4.70 inches.

Short period averages for other points: Advance 4.08 inches, Bloomfield 4.78 inches, Clearwater Dam 4.09 inches, Kennett 3.86 inches, Portageville 3.93 inches, Qulin 4.00 inches, Bernie 4.07 inches, Charleston 4.26 inches, Deering 4.91 inches, Malden 3.93 inches, Puxico 4.13 inches and Wappapello Dam 3.95 inches.

Blackwell Admits Error In Letters

KENNETT — State Senator Earl Blackwell Wednesday told The Daily Democrat he simply made a mistake when he placed a news release to Missouri newspapers in envelopes bearing "Blackwell for Governor" and sent them out at state expense.

The envelopes, bearing the serial number of the Missouri Senate's postage meter, contained what the Democratic gubernatorial hopeful termed a letter to the editor, mailing out some 300 letters throughout the state. The letter, relating to Missouri's national ranking in education support, was printed by The Daily Democrat on Friday, Feb. 25, four days after it was mailed from Jefferson City.

Since the "Blackwell for Governor" envelope had been stamped by a postage meter, The Daily Democrat began a check of the serial numbers of machines in the state capitol and found that the number of the meter was the same as that used for the Missouri Senate for official use. A state employe in charge of the Senate mailing room, Ron Kirchoff, confirmed that Blackwell had sent out a mailing on February 21 of "about 300 letters." All the letters had eight- cent stamps, Kirchoff said.

When questioned about his role in the mailing, Kirchoff said, "All I have to do is get the senator's assurance that it's Senate business."

Blackwell told The Daily Democrat the use of the envelopes bearing "Blackwell for Governor" and post office box numbers in Jefferson City and Hillsboro, his home, had been an error. The letter also bore the lege nd "Blackwell for Governor" and also the official seal of the state of Missouri.

Blackwell, who is campaigning on a no- tax-increase platform for the Democratic nomination, said his letter was meant to serve as a non- political message to state newspaper editors. The last paragraph of the letter states,"Personally, I would like to see us rank fiftieth in taxation. When we reach the point where a state is judged on how heavily it taxes its citizens, I think it is time for a wholesale reappraisal of our attitudes."

A member of the Senate Accounts Committee, when questioned about the Blackwell mailing, said he had no knowledge of the incident but planned to discuss it with other members of the committee. The committee oversees the operation of the mailing room and supervises and enforces mail- room regulation in an effort to prevent political use of official tax supported mailings.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The world missions agency of the Presbyterian Church U. S. (southern) has recommended that the dénomination invite overseas churches to send missionaries to the United States for a change. All six continents need missionaries from elsewhere, the agency says, including this country.

Cooks Lease Kennett Hotel

KENNETT — Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cook, Albuquerque, N.M., have signed a five- year lease for the Cotton Boll Hotel and restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook, with over 20 years of experience in hotel- motel and restaurant management, said the lease arrangement — with an option to buy — was completed last week with Mr. and Mrs. Al Robinett and Charles Earls, owners of Cotton Boll Hotel, Inc.

Cook, a native of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and his wife, Alma Jean, originally of Portageville, have been operating the hotel and restaurant since February.

New York University's baseball team will play 24 games this spring. The Violets of 1971 nad a 12-7 record.

School Buys New Vehicles

HOWARDVILLE — Superintendent George S. Reuter, Jr. announced that the New Madrid County R-1 enlarged board of education has purchased new equipment.

Five 66- passenger Ford buses were purchased from the low bidder, who was Bill Hayes Ford Sales of Portageville. One 60- passenger Ford bus was purchased from Hayes, low bidder. Three 60- passenger Chevrolet bus chassis were purchased from the low bidder, Dennis Chevrolet Company of Malden.

Area Dentists At Dexter

DEXTER — The Spring meeting of the Southeast Missouri Dental Society was held in Dexter Thursday, with area dentists and dental assistants attending.

Dr. Robert Boon, Dexter, is president of the group this year, and arranged the meeting.

In morning and afternoon sessions, the dentists heard some of the late development in dental health, including new trends in preventive dentistry.

Speakers related that evidence is showing the interrelation of a person's total health to dental health, and also told of research that is pointing out how important diet is to dental health.

Four speakers presented various portions of the program. They were T. Wayne Lewis, Jackson; William C. Jackson, Poplar Bluff; G. Keith Deimund, Cape Girardeau; and Sam Hedgepeth, New Madrid.

The meeting held in the Community Building at the Dexter Housing Authority, also gave dental assistants to try out dental hygiene and cleaning methods on dentists. One new development used was the Plak-Lite, a flashlight- like device that helps a person detect cavity - causing plaque after they have brushed.

Also stressed by the dental assistants and dentists was the use of dental floss in cleaning teeth. One dentist commented that he had been using floss on patients for years, but "it's hard to use it on yourself."

Carrying out the dental health theme, the snack table featured apples, bananas and other fresh fruit, and other snacks that most dentists feel are less a cause of cavities.

Oil Shortage to Put Pressure on Prices

By Editorial Research Reports

WASHINGTON -- The State of Texas will allow all oil wells to produce at maximum capacity beginning Saturday -- the first wide- open run of the wells since 1948.

From oil glut to oil shortage in 10 years. That's the situation created by America 's voracious appetite for oil and its byproducts. ,What's more, U.S. oil demand is expected to increase by an average of 3.8 per cent each year until 1985, putting still greater pressure on domestic oil reserves and on the prices Americans pay for gasoline and heating oil.

The shift from surplus to deficit was dramatized when the Texas Railroad Commission on March 16 set that state's oil allowable at 100 per cent. Texas produces more than 35 per cent of the nation's oil. Industry leaders told the commission that oil inventories in the state were at their lowest level in four years.

With oil production peaking in the principal oil- producing states, any hope for greater domestic output rests with new areas such as Alaska's North Slope or the East Coast Continental Shelf. But the Interior Department contends that even if domestic production could be maintained near its present rate with the help of Alaskan oil, "foreign petroleum may need to be imported ... at a rate of 8 million barrels a day by 1980, as compared with 3.4 million barrels a day in 1970."

The oil import issue is a real basket of eels. Quota restrictions on cheaper foreign oil imports help prop up domestic oil prices. A staff report to the congressional Joint Economic Committee estimatedthat Americas pay $5 billion in higher prices each year because of the oil quota program. This costs the average American family about $100 more a year in gasoline or fuel-oil prices.

But without the protection of an indirect subsidy, domestic producers would have little incentive to find and develop new oil fields. In the event of a national emergency, the United States might find itself dependent on foreign oil. If quotas were dropped altogether, as many as 150,000 jobs might be lost. Petroleum economist Richard J. Gonzalez argues, moreover, that since much of the nation's natural gas is produced in conjunction with oil, any decline in domestic exploration will affect gas reserves, too.

The argument over domestic versus foreign oil could become academic in future years as demand for petroleum increases and as foreign oil producing nations narrow the price differential. In the last year, the balance of power has swung sharply over to the producing countries from the big international oil companies that had traditionally held it.

Six Persian Gulf area states on March 12 won a 20 per cent share of the ownership in four U.S. oil companies exploiting their one great resource. As the buyers' market in international oil becomes a sellers' market, prices for imported crude have risen. The price advantage for a barrel of Mideast oil delivered to the East Coast was $1.30 two years ago. Now it has shrunk to about 75 cents over a barrel produced in the United States.

Some domestic oil producers would like to raise the price of crude oil by as much as 25 per cent on the ground that they would then have an incentive to search for and exploit new sources of U.S. oil and gas. The price commission no doubt would take a dim view of such a big jump. But one way or another the oil supply squeeze is likely to be translated into higher prices at the gas pump.

Coffee Corner by Cherie

Why is it the flowers always look so great in all the magazines where they picture them growing in the patios, & then I go to the window and look out at mine and horrors! I do everything they tell me to — I mulch with peat moss, I feed with fertilizer. I prune with special clippers, I spray with poisons, I water, I sing, I even pray over them and still — nothing!! I don't know, but I'm sure doing something wrong. Charles says it's when I sing to them, he says that takes six months of growth off their limbs right there and he may be right but I do think it's rather tacky of him to come right out and say so. Anyway, this spring we've started all over and have dug up our whole courtyard, saved the top soil, dug out the hard pan (which is they say, why the water wouldn't drain out), filled in with sand, put back on the top soil again, made drains of tiles to carry off the extra water, replanted the area with all new plants practically, and now we are sitting back and awaiting the end results. I'll tell you one thing for sure, if I don't get at least one boquet out of there this summer I'm going to concrete and forget the whole mess. I decided long ago my green thumb was a trifle on the black side, but this is ridiculous — I'd do better with no thumb at all. Oh well, what's that old song, "I'm the only little petunia in the onion patch," believe me, whoever wrote that must have just seen my courtyard and gotten his inspiration there — well not quite, cause I don't even have onions!

Old Fire Engine to Haywood City

CARUTHERSVILLE — Granny, the 1937 Diamond T fire engine formerly the property of the Caruthersville fire department, is the number one fire engine of Haywood City, a small Southeast Missouri community near Benton.

The truck, which was won by the Dr. Alan Gubin family of Caruthrsville in a recent giveaway, was donated to Haywood City by the Gubins, after it was learned the small community had no fire protection.

Dr. Gubin stipulated that if Granny was ever retired from the Haywood City department, she was not to be junked but given back to the Caruthersville Park Commission to be placed in the city park for youth to enjoy.

Parley on Urban Crime

POPLAR BLUFF — A conference for area law enforcement officials dealing with attacks on law enforcement and related urban crime problems will be sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation at the armory April 6 according to William A. Sullivan, special agent in charge of the St. Louis FBI Office.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the conferences, to be held in every state, will inform local and state law enforcement authorities concerning attacks on police, incendiary and bombing activities, thefts of firearms, and other terrorist acts of violence. Hoover noted that many robberies and thefts of firearms and explosives are committed by revolutionaries to support their terrorist activities.

"The increase in violent activities by terroristic and revolutionary groups in the United States, especially their assaults on police officers, constitutes one of the most serious problems facing our society today," Hoover said. "Only by keeping informed on the current tactics of these extremist forces can law enforcement expect to cope with them."

Conferences will be attended by law enforcement personnel, prosecutors, and members of the judiciary. Special agents in charge of the 59 FBI field offices will preside over conferences in their areas, and leading law enforcement officials will participate in panel discussions.

The conferences will be based on a two- day pilot seminar in Washington, D.C., in November, 1971, on urban guerrilla warfare.

Sullivan said that serving as conference panelists will be Capt. Wayne Brooks, Troop E, and Sgt. Ferial Findley, both of troop E, Missouri State Highway Patrol.

ASPARAGUS-HAM CREPES

Can't help wondering just how much fun we'll have -- hunting Easter Eggs in maxi-coats and warm boots! These frosty winds have suppressed any ideas I might have had about wearing a neat little straw and patent leather hat.

..... but to the culinary!

The season provides an excuse for me to focus on my favorite things .... homemade breads. Following are three from as many origins. All are pretty as well as tasty, and the Portugese variety makes a festive centerpiece for Easter breakfast. The Kulich makes use of those empty coffee cans you've stashed away ... the ones you save for broken crayons and homeless puzzle parts. (There must be a heaven for those little misfits!) When the Kulich is baked, frost the tops, decorate and pass several to good neighbors.

Also included are two ideas for fresh asparagus, one with scrambled eggs and another for some great ham crepes with curry sauce. Use asparagus often, if the family doesn't object, for it's high in vitamin C and furnishes a goodly share of vitamin A. And don't forget to prepare the crepes paper thin ... that's part of their delicacy.

Best Easter wishes ....!

PORTUGUESE EASTER BREAD

6½ to 7½ cups unsifted flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 packages active dry yeast
1 cup milk
¼ cup water
¼ cup (½ stick) margarine
3 eggs (at room temperature)
8 hard-cooked eggs

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 2 cups flour, sugar, salt and undissolved active dry yeast.

Combine milk, water and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120 degrees F. - 130 degrees F.). Margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 3 eggs and 3/4 cup flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; turn out onto lightly floured board. Divide dough into 8 equal pieces. Take about ¼ of each piece and set aside. Shape larger pieces into round balls. On greased baking sheets, press large pieces of dough down into circles about ½ -inch thick. Place a hard-cooked egg in center of each. Divide each of the remaining 8 pieces of dough in half. Shape each into a 6-inch rope. Using 2 ropes, cross in an "X" over each egg and seal ends underneath dough. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 to 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from cans and cool on wire racks.

When cool, frost tops with confectioners' sugar frosting and decorate with colored sprinkles, if desired. Makes 2 cakes.

BABKA

2 cups unsifted flour ¼ cup sugar
1 package active dry yeast
½ cup milk
¼ cup (½ stick) margarine

rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake at 350 degrees F. 20 to 25 minutes, or until done. Remove from baking sheets and cool on wire racks. Makes 8 individual breads.

KULICH

2¼ to 2¾ cups unsifted flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 package active dry yeast
½ cup milk
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons Margarine
1 egg (at room temperature)
¼ cup chopped almonds
¼ cup seedless raisins
Confectioners' sugar frosting
Colored sprinkles

In a large bowl thoroughly mix ¾ cup flour, sugar, salt, lemon peel and undissolved active dry yeast.

Combine milk, water and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120 degrees F. - 130 degrees F.). Margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 3 eggs and ¾ cup flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; turn onto lightly floured board. Knead in blanched almonds and raisins. Divide dough in half. Shape each half into ball; press each into a greased 1-pound coffee or shortening can. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 40 minutes, or until done.

When cool, frost tops with confectioners' sugar frosting and decorate with colored sprinkles and candied fruits.

¼ cup mixed candied fruits
¼ cup seedless raisins

In a large bowl thoroughly mix ¾ cup flour, sugar and undissolved active dry yeast.

Combine milk and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquid is very warm (120 degree F - 130 degree F.). Margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients, and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add eggs and ½ cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Add remaining flour and beat 2 minutes at high speed. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until bubbly, about 1 hour.

Stir in candied fruits and raisins. Turn into greased and floured 2-quart Turk's Head pan or tube pan. Let rise, uncovered, in warm place, free from draft, for 30 minutes.

Bake in moderate (350 degree F.) about 40 minutes, or until done.

Before removing from pan, immediately prick surface with fork. Pour Rum syrup (below) over cake. After syrup is absorbed, remove from pan and cool on wire rack. When cool, if desired, frost with confectioners' sugar frosting. Makes 1 cake.

Rum Syrup: Combine ½ cup sugar, 1/3 cup water and 2 teaspoons rum extract in a saucepan; bring to a boil.

FRESH ASPARAGUS OMELET

1 cup ½ -inch fresh asparagus pieces
6 eggs
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

To prepare asparagus, break or cut off tough ends and cut stalks into 1/2 inch pieces. Place asparagus in medium saucepan and add 1 inch water. Cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer for 5 to 8 minutes, or until tender, but not soft. Drain and set aside.

In a medium bowl beat eggs with water and salt just until well mixed. Add cooked asparagus. Heat butter in medium (10-inch) skillet until bubbly but not brown. Add egg mixture and cook over low heat until edges begin to set. Gently lift edges of omelet to allow uncooked mixture to run under and cook. Using a long wide spatula fold omelet in half and slide onto a serving platter. Serve with Cheese Sauce*

Makes: 3 or 4 servings.

*CHEESE SAUCE

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1¼ cups milk
1 cup shredded Cheddar Cheese
¼ teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce

In medium saucepan melt butter and blend in flour. Gradually stir in milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add cheese and Tabasco and stir over low heat until cheese melts.

ASPARAGUS-HAM CREPES

Crepes:
½ cup flour
1½ cups milk
1 egg
¼ teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients in bowl and beat until smooth. Heat a 6-inch skillet or crepe pan until very hot. Brush quickly with butter or oil and add approximately 2 tablespoons of the batter to the pan. Quickly tip and turn the pan so that the batter covers the bottom. Cook until slightly browned, turn and cook the other side. Remove and repeat with remaining batter, stacking crepes between waxed paper or paper towels as they are completed. Makes: 8 crepes.

Curried Egg Sauce:
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup finely chopped fresh onion
¼ teaspoon curry powder
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1¼ cups milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/8 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
4 hard-cooked eggs, cut in quarters

Melt butter in medium saucepan; add onion and curry powder and cook until onion is tender Blend in flour and salt. Gradually stir in milk; add Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Add eggs; heat. Keep sauce warm.

To assemble crepes:
2 pounds fresh asparagus (about 32 stalks)
8 thin slices boiled ham

Wash asparagus; break off each stalk as far down as it snaps easily. Cook, covered, in 1 inch boiling water in a large skillet until tender, 5 to 8 minutes. Place a slice of ham on each crepe. Drain asparagus, and while still warm place 3 or 4 spears on each crepe. Roll and place seam side down on a platter, or 2 to each of 4 individual plates. Spoon Curried Egg Sauce over crepes and serve immediately.

Makes: 4 servings of 2 crepes each.

Eggs Are In!

Spring in general ... and Easter, specifically, is a good time to think of eggs.

Children in all parts of the western world look forward to Easter baskets filled with brightly colored eggs, cooked and ready to provide essential nutrition as soon as the egg hunt is over.

The dual use of eggs, as a symbolic decoration and as a major food, had its origin in early history. Pagan ceremonies included eggs as a symbol of the earth, life and the rebirth of all growing things. It likely was a vestige of the earlier use that encouraged early Christians to consider eggs as a symbol of the resurrection.

In medieval England, egg-throwing and egg rolling contests were traditional on Easter Sunday. In 1810, Dolly Madison introduced the traditional of rolling colored eggs down the slopes of the Capitol grounds on Easter Monday. However this practice was so hard on the Capitol lawn that the egg roll was moved to the White House in 1878.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that there are plenty of eggs this spring for egg hunting, egg eating and any other use. Production in March is expected to be near the high level of a year ago.

If you plan to decorate eggs this Easter, you should know how to select eggs by USDA grade and size. Highest quality eggs are labeled USDA Grade AA (or Fresh Fancy) or USDA Grade A. These eggs are ideal for any use, but are especially recommended for use as hard-cooked eggs to assure you of highest quality.

To hardcook eggs, cover completely with water in a pan. Bring the water to a gentle boil and cook two to four minutes. Turn off heat, cover and let stand about 20 minutes. Immerse in cold water to cool eggs for dying.

After you have dved the eggs (using one of the harmless food coloring dyes), store in the refrigerator until the Easter egg hunt. While eggs are in the Easter basket, keep the basket away from hot places like radiators. After the egg hunt, immediately return the eggs to the refrigerator. Plan to eat hard cooked eggs within one or two days.

You can use them as is or in a number of spring dishes -- egg salads, deviled eggs, egg dips and canapes. Chopped hard cooked eggs are good in casseroles with chicken, ham, tuna or as a garnish for mixed vegetables, spinach, broccoli or asparagus.

Eagleton Says Bid Afoot To Avoid Goals

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., said Tuesday "there is an effort to avoid achievement of the goals for reductions of auto emissions set in the 1970 Clean Air Amendments."

"This cooperative, concerted effort began in industry-administration meetings in 1971," Eagleton said, "but it was crystalized at a meeting at the Western White House in San Clemente on Jan. 13 and 14 of this year.

"Since that meeting," he said, "we have been virtually inundated with industry and administration pronouncements against the clean air effort."

Eagleton made the comments at the opening of Senate air and water pollution subcommittee oversight hearings probing efforts to clean the atmosphere.

Representatives of General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors testified they would be unable to meet the stringent standards calling for 90 per cent reductions in hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide by the 1975 model year and for nitrogen oxides by 1976.

The four major automakers have requested or plan to ask the Environmental Protection Agency for a one year delay in enforcing the standards.

300 Buy Chamber Tickets

More than 300 have purchased tickets for the Chamber of Commerce dinner theatre at 6:15 p.m. Monday in the fieldhouse.

The evening will include the Neil Simon play "Plaza Suite," and a filet mignon dinner.

The chairs and tables encircle the stage in a theater in the round fashion and no seat will be more than 30 feet from the stage, according to Shad Old, dinner chairman. The stage will be raised to provide a good view.

Brownies and Girl Scouts will be hostesses.

The deadline for buying tickets is Thursday. Tickets may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office on South Kingshighway.

Billboard Bill Passed

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri legislature finally passed a billboard control bill Tuesday with the sponsors sighing in relief and the opponents continuing to insist it was unconstitutional.

Robert L. Hyder, chief counsel of the Highway Department, said he believed it would comply with federal requirements and so give Missouri $11.5 million in highway aid that had been held back.

Hyder said he talked with a Department of Transportation attorney about the changes in the compromise bill and got a cautious opinion that the Missouri law probably is in compliance.

Hyder declined to express himself on the constitutionality of the bill before he gets a full look at it in its final form.

Missouri's chief concern was the cost of tearing down billboards that don't meet the requirements of the new regulation and paying the owners for their losses.

The bill provides that highway funds may be used, but that runs against a legal opinion of Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth. He said the Constitution will not allow the use of highway funds for non-highway purposes.

Sponsors of the compromise bill tried to skirt that problem by providing in the bill a statement of policy on highway safety and the convenience of the traveling public.

Federal Charge For Thompson

Tommy Lee Thompson, who was bound over to circuit court for trial yesterday following a preliminary hearing on charges of breaking into the junior high middle school in 1969, now has something else to worry about.

He was taken into custody after the hearing by Scott County Sheriff John Dennis on a federal warrant issued by the U.S. Marshal in St. Louis.

Thompson, who is now in county jail, was ordered to stand trial April 13 in Benton by Magistrate Judge Lloyd Briggs.

The federal warrant stems from a March 22 federal grand jury indictment charging the 24-year-old Sikeston resident with firearms violations. He is charged with possession of a weapon after being convicted of a felony which is a federal offense. He was found with the weapon by police in St. Louis in June, 1971, more than a year after being convicted of burglary in Hannibal.

The charges against Thompson in the school break-in allege he took watches, cap pistols, and food. Authorities charge his finger prints were found in the school.

Thompson was tried and acquited of murder and rape in the 1965 slaying of Mrs. Thelma Lewis.

Thompson also was arrested for burglary in Vandalia, Ill., and spent time in the Alton, Ill., jail.

Senate Wants To Cut Budget

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee recommended today Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' $1.9 billion budget for 1972-73 be cut by about $25 million.

The committee fixed a general revenue (tax money) total appropriation of $791,521,470 compared with the governor's recommendation of $822.5 million.

Sen. Donald Manford, D-Kansas City, appropriations chairman, said no breakdown was available immediately on the total amount of appropriations from federal and other funds.

The committee's estimates of available revenue differed sharply from those of Comptroller John C. Vaughn.

Vaughn has estimated total revenue for this year, 1971-72, will amount to $750.7 million. But the committee said its studies showed the total would be $739,149,882.

On the basis of committee figures, the current budget would cause a deficit of almost $10 million by June 30, the end of the fiscal year, counting a $6.8 million emergency appropriation bill passed earlier this year.

Starting from that premise, the committee concluded revenue available for the 1972-73 year would amount to $795,120,060. If $15 million in unexpended money lapses at the end of this fiscal year.

Teenagers Hurt In Crash

DEXTER — Three teenagers were injured in a one-car mishap at 7:56 p.m. Tuesday one mile northeast of Dexter on a gravel road.

The accident occurred, the highway patrol said, when a southbound 1963 Ford driven by Marvin E. Finch, 18, of Dexter, went out of control and ran off the road.

Finch sustained cuts and bruises. Two passengers were injured. Janet Stewart, 15, of Dexter, sustained forehead cuts, and Richard Weaver, 15, of Dexter, suffered cuts on the right leg.

The trio were taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital.

$4,000 Aid For Student

NEW MADRID — The Jimmy Henderson fund has reached $4,000 after a public appeal was made a week ago by school students to aid the 15- year- old high school freshman, who was stricken March 19 with a cerebral hemmorhage.

Henderson, a patient in Baptist Hospital at Memphis, recovering from a five- hour operation is improving daily. He was taken out of intensive care Thursday and was able to sit up 20 minutes Tuesday.

School students designated Saturday Jimmy Henderson Day. They collected $862 from an all- daybake sale, window washing, yard cleaning, car wash, and manning road blocks.

Two House Breakin Arrests

BENTON — Scott County Sheriff John Dennis announced the arrest of two men after the March 19 breakin at the Sam Menz home, route two, Chaffee.

Charged with breaking and entering are Danny Hibbs of Oran and Marvin D. Hedger of Chaffee.

A $1,000 Stradivarius bass fiddle taken in the robbery was destroyed by the two men, according to Dennis. He said they threw the instrument out of the car near Chaffee and smashed it.

A violin taken in the robbery is still missing, as is a woman's watch. Dennis has recovered a gun and a radio stolen from the Menz house.

Dennis said he traced the men through a lead but refused to give details.

Dennis said he does not believe the robbery was connected with the burglary of the John Mayfield house near Benton on the same day.

He said other agencies helping to track down the two men were the Chaffee police department and the Cape Girardeau County sheriff's office.

Blind Teacher Realizes She Must Try Harder

"OPAL (the dog) has been the biggest major change in my personal life," Marcia Setzer, blind Spanish and French teacher at Dexter high school, says.

By PAM HORTON

DEXTER — "If I could see for a week I might first go to look in the mirror but I wouldn't stay there too long. I would probably walk through Dexter and look everyone straight in the face."

Marcia Setzer, 44, a diabetic since 16, began having trouble with her eyes while teaching freshman English and French at White Hall, Ill.

"I finished out the year by grading papers with a magnifying glass. It's ironic, too. I had just bought the one big investment besides my car, a set of encyclopedias on the installment plan, and couldn't read them."

"After an eye specialist told me that I was going blind, I wrote a letter of resignation to White Hall. My father had been a Baptist minister in Manchester, N.H. for 22 years and had an invitation to become superintendent of the Temperance League of Missouri, so I came to Missouri with them. This was the beginning of a long empty period in many respects. I went down hill very gradually, losing my sight a little at a time."

For the next three years it was a world of learning and adjusting to blindness and long periods of depression.

"One day, deciding what did I have to loose, I walked into a school within walking distance of our home and asked to speak to the superintendent. I told him I would like to substitute teach, feeling I could hold the department together for a few days anyway. Surprisingly, one day they called me and I taught for nine days. I began to realize I could teach these sighted kids if I could reach their minds and get their attention."

After this Miss Setzer attended the Adult Rehabilitation Center for the Blind, in Minneapolis four months learning the three things any blind person must learn, self-care, communication, and mobility.

"I loved it and didn't want to go home," she said. "It was security."

"But I did go home to more housework and depression. I needed a job."

This is when Miss Setzer began traveling with the help of the St. Louis Bureau for the Blind to school in Missouri. On May 10, 1960, she signed her contract with Dexter high school to teach French and Spanish and has been teaching there 12 years.

"What is it that makes a full life?" she said. "First of all health. I'm a servere diabetic. I'm happy to have been given this long to live because of insulin. Nature would have done away with me before the age of 16 otherwise, but here I am still making students miserable daily. Next, work, because I try to be as good as I can be. I'm in a job that a sighted person could do better. I know it and I always feel inadequate."

Also important in Miss Setzer's life is Opal, a golden retriever, her seeing-eye dog.

"She has been a terrific change in my life and the biggest major change in my personal life," she said. "I spend a great deal of time with her and my health and morale are even much better."

Opal is five and Miss Setzer received her when Opal was a year and eight months old. She was raised by a 4-H child in New York State who is in the process of raising his 13th dog for the blind. Opal was trained by two professional trainers at the Guiding Eyes for the Blind, Inc., in Yorktown Heights, N. Y., three months and with Miss Setzer at the school for one month.

"We took bus rides, subway rides with the trainers, and then they sent us out alone together."

"There are problems all of the time for me such as motivating a student to learn, finding things I loose, taking three times to do what other teachers do in half that time, health problems, and buying clothes, which is purely visual, to name only a few," she explained.

"My philosophy of life has to be a flexible one such as General Douglas McArther stated, 'There's no security, only opportunity.' When you get to the place where you think you have it made, by then something else has changed. The only thing you can do from day to day is to try even though you really don't know where you are going."

Reorganization Bid Delayed

Panel Assigned

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee took no action today on a proposed constitutional change to reorganize state government, but assigned a threeman subcommittee to study the measure and make a recommendation next week.

Sen. Maurice Schechter, DCreve ?Coeur, chairman, named Sens. William J. Cason, D-Clinton, William B. Waters, D-Liberty, and Richard M. Webster, R-Carthage, to the subcommittee.

The House-passed proposal which would have to be approved by the voters, calls for 10 or 11 major state departments in the executive branch, covering scores of small agencies, boards and commissions.

It was one of the key recommendations of the State Reorganization, or "Little Hoover," Commission which ran into trouble earlier this session in committee and on the Senate floor.

Cason, majority leader of the Senate, is opposed to the proposal. He said proponents are misleading the people when they contend it would save the state millions of dollars by eliminating overlapping and duplication of services.

But Paul Williams, legal assistant to Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, insisted that in the long run considerable savings and better efficiency would result.

One of the hottest issues in the discussion of the proposal was a provision calling for the lumping together of the Conservation Commission, state Park Board, state Boat Commission and he Outdoor Recreation Council into one Department of Natural Resources.

As an offshoot of this issue, Sen. Richard M. Webster, RCarthage, charged that efforts by the Conservation Confederation of Missouri to establish a 1 cent soft drink tax to finance conservation programs was a "sneaky device" to circumvent the legislature by initiative petition.

The committee also heard testimony on another proposed constitutional amendment that would exempt household items and clothing from personal property tax.

That measure brought opposition primarily from spokesmen for St. Louis County government and teachers who claimed it would cost the county schools more than $2 million in revenue and deprive other government services of $290,000.

Driving Charge Bond Forfeited

EAST PRAIRIE -- Walter L. Brayars forfeited a $25 bond posted on a charge of careless and imprudent driving.

Police Judge J. Marvin Bryan levied a $20 fine to Bennie DeWitt and a $30 fine to Randy Nowells on charges of peace disturbance.

A $30 fine was assessed Leroy Matthews on a charge of public intoxication.

Ray Jackson Hillie was fined $10 for running a school stop sign.

Bombing Raids

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam is considering sending its air force on bombing raids to support its ground troops in South Vietnam and Laos for the first time in the war, U.S. military sources said today.

They said Hanoi has lenghtened the runway of its southernmost base and is building two other air strips.

The sources said the action raises the possibility of further intensification of the air war, including new large-scale retaliatory U.S. strikes inside North Vietnam.

"Information we have convinces us they are thinking of using MIG17s and MIG19s in an air-to -ground support role," said one source.

Mayor Race At Wyatt

WYATT — A race nas developed for the office of mayor and two seats on the town board to be decided in the April 4 city eleciton.

Filing as candidate for the two-year term of mayor are Hunter Rafferty and Charles Baugh. Retiring Mayor Fred Burkstaller is not seeking re-election.

Incumbents Mrs. Ethyl Small and Max Davidson are being challenged for the two two-year vacancies on the town board by Henry Ward and Homer Reichert.

Filing deadline was Saturday.

Theft Probation

NEW MADRID — Frank Jones was granted probation without supervision Tuesday in circuit court after he was given a two-year sentence on a guilty plea to felonious stealing before Judge William L. Ragland. Jones was charged with stealing $100 in checks and $85 in cash from Hershel Troop on Jan. 14.

Marion L. Collins was formally arraigned on charge of breaking custody May 24, 1971.

The Collins case was transferred from Scott County on change of venue.

Judge Ragland ordered Dale Gream to the state hospital at Fulton for mental examination. Gream is charged with possession of stolen property.

Independent Divers Inc. was granted $5,601.20 judgment against Claude Cockrell doing business as American Divers in connection with docking projects in St. Jude Industrial Park.

Eleven divorces were granted.

Shelia Diane Hodge received a divorce, custody of two minor children, and $15 per week per child for support from Byrle Riley Hodge. Dean George Parkman was awarded a divorce and custody of two minor sons and Ada Gwen Parkman was given custody of two minor daughters, $20 per month per child for support and $200 attorney's fee.

Theresa Cravens Riley was divorced, given custody of one child and support after a property settlement agreement in her suit against Edwin Howard Riley III.

Votes For Park Bonds

SCOTT CITY (AP) — Voters in this Southeast Missouri town have approved a $170,000 bond issue to finance a recreational park.

The project includes construction of a swimming pool, courts for tennis and basketball, a picnic area and parking facilities.

The bonds received 480 favorable votes to only 161 negative votes in Tuesday's election.

Second Vote On Bond Issues In Howardville

HOWARDVILLE — Voters will ballot April 17, for the second time, on two bond issues totaling $81,000 to construct a city sewage system, including a treatment plant, land purchase, and a sewage lagoon.

Voters unanimously approved the issues in December, 1970, by a vote of 196, after a federal grant of $121,000 was made in March, 1970, to help cover cost of a new $202,000 system, but because of the delay, the proposals are being resubmitted.

One proposal calls for issuance of $7,000 general obligation bonds and another for $74,000 revenue bonds.

No increase in taxes will be made for payment of the general obligation bonds

Man Held In Contempt For Using Profane Language

CHARLESTON — Leslie Allen Achter was found in contempt for using profane language addressed to the court, when he appeared Thursday on a charge of exhibiting a dangerous and deadly weapon in a rude, angry and threatening manner.

Magistrate T. J. Brown, Jr. ordered Achter be confined until Thursday when he will again be brought to court for arraignment on the same charge.

Achter and Herbert Burbaker had been questioned about the March 18 armed robbery of Staders Highway Market in Charleston. No charges have been filed as witnesses could not identify the men's voices as that of the robber.

The weapon's charge stemmed from an incident the night of the armed robbery when Achter reportedly held a gun on Mrs. Francis Brown of Charleston and forced her to drive him outside the city limits.

Achter was later arrested in Cairo, on a traffic violation and extradited to Mississippi County on the weapon's charge.

Burbaker was released after paying a $47.50 fine for having no operator's license.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

A man never knows much until he is old, and then he is too discreet to tell.

THE EVERLASTING LIGHT

To awake even on Easter morning and mentally scan the sea of troubles besetting mankind could turn this into a day of depression. To the contrary, it should be a day of happiness and joy. It is the inspiration for each of us, whatever his age and condition in life, to sense a personal rebirth of soul and spirit.

St. Luke told the story of the two followers of the young minister who had been crucified only three days before. They were walking on the road from Jerusalem to Emmaus, talking out their despondency over the loss of their leader's life. A stranger, the risen Christ whom they did not recognize, joined them and asked: "What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?" Having heard their explanations, Jesus then said: "O fools, and slow of heart to believe ... ought not Christ to have suffered those things, and to enter into his glory?"

Once these men realized who their companion was they could join others in creating a faith which has transcended 2,000 years of mankind's pain, hardship and conflict.

The gloom of any day or any dismal situation is swept away in an ocean of enlightenment and inner strength when the meaning of Easter is comprehended.

William Temple, archbishop of Canterbury in the early 1940s, once wrote: "There is nothing distinctively modern about the problem of evil for all who believe or yearn to believe in God. And nowhere is that problem presented so insistently as at the Cross. Yet it is out of the darkness which surrounds the Cross that the great light breaks ... For there can be no darkness blacker than the darkness of Calvary; yet out of it shines the everlasting light."

And it was Jesus, who had said, just before his death: "In the world ye have tribulation: But be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."

Darkness is synonymous with fear, despair and evil. Light is the symbol of gladness, joy and good.

Which side do we communicate to each other as we walk through life? American astronauts have journeyed into a black void of space, but it is significant that they always are cheered when they gaze back at that bright blue planet which is our home.

Sleep is a kind of darkness, too. But as we open our eyes on the new day, there is rebirth, new life,new opportunity and challenge. And especially on this day there shines that everlasting light.

EASTER PRAYER

I studied his face, war -worn,
I looked at his hand, mine-torn;
I turned to Thee;
You comforted me.
I thought of another Son, life-given.
I could see His hands, nail-driven.
Who did You turn to,
Who comforted You?
The love of those who cherished Him
As they knelt upon the sod,
I pray their love was comforting;
That You weren't alone, dear God.

WHOSE IDEA WAS IT?

The facts are that National Health Insurance is being advocated by Americans for Democratic Action. Both the idea and the ADA were conceived many years ago by the Fabian Socialist Society of London as part of the Fabians hoped that someday the world might live under socialism and nothing else.

What the ADA and the Fabians can't admit is the known fact that socialized medicine in England, British National Health Service (BNHS), became so sick, it died several years ago. It is given the appearance of life by socialists such as Prime Minister Harold Wilson. British doctors have fled that medically ill island by the thousands and, as far as the patients are concerned, word from the blighted isle is that the English are voluntarily joining nongovernment medical insurance plans — even while they pay the taxes which miserably fail to finance socialized medicine.

BNHS was the brainchild of Lord Beveridge, a known collaborator of the British Fabian Society of London. That fact must be kept in mind as one looks at the evidence that the proposed American National Health Insurance is socialist to the core, as are certain Americans who are pushing NHI and who duck the socialist name, but play a good socialist game.

These Americans who deny they are socialists are those of the Americans for Democratic Action (ADA), whose 1969 legislative program called for "National Health Service" and a "guaranteed income." Technically, the socialist label won't stick, because the means test of socialism is a call for "government ownership of the means of production." ADA hasn't done that, at least publicly, but its constant fight for government control of the means of production would accomplish the same socialist goals. Upon such rhetorical technicalities empires have been built: if it's too technical for the citizen, how can he fight the false premises that lurk within the technicality?

U. S. FARMERS' STAKE IN FREEDOM

A farmer needs capital of $250,000 for a 480-acre hog-corn farm in eastern Nebraska, and he needs $1,765,000 for a 22,000-acre cow-calf ranch in northern Nebraska, according to Philip A. Henderson, economist of the University of Nebraska. A study by him was quoted in the March issue of Successful Farming.

The study assumes that a young man with the ability to operate a farm or ranch profitably could make $14,000 to $16,000 in a non-farm job. Land, trucks, tractors, machinery, silos, cars and all the other materials needed on a modern farm make the farmer of today a true capitalist-entrepreneur. He needs money at every turn. In addition to his vast personal industry, he needs good fortune by way of weather for corn and grasses and other crops, and his animals have to remain in good health. The government can make or break him in a number of ways.

The day of the very small farmer, with 40 to 50 acres, is becoming less and less profitable. The average farm size is more then 350 acres. The agriculturist of today is a man of culture as well as many abilities. Karl Marx was wrong in a number of his assumptions, but nowhere more so than in his remarks about the "idiocy of village life." With the publication of books and periodicals on an enormous scale, and the addition of radio, television and the telephone, the farmer is at least as smart as the average man.

There is good reason to look after the independence of American farmers. Without being badgered and hamstrung at every turn by his government (as happens to farmers under socialism) the average American farmer produces food for 44 persons, with the number still rising. About 95 per cent of Americans are family owned. May they ever prosper.

While the voters were going to the polls in the New Hampshire primary, Lew Gingery of Rushville gave us his fearless forecast on who would be the Presidential nominee of the Democratic Party in 1972.

Following the ever-changing winds of politics during his over-90 years, Lew told us that he has never before felt this way about a candidate, but the pieces of the puzzle are falling into place.

First, Lew believes that George McGovern was backed by Kennedy people and money in the New Hampshire primary for a reason. Also, McGovern was given the Massachusetts Democratic delegates who are really pledged to Ted Kennedy.

Lew rates Kennedy as very clever as he stays out of the party fights between the candidates, and when convention time comes in August Kennedy will be nominated for President by Democrats after 4 or 5 ballots.

Lew says the Democratic politicians throughout the United States really favor another Kennedy and Nixon confrontation -- and this will help swing it.

Now we'll wait and see if the Sage of Rushville is right.

LOUSE'S LEASE ON LIFE RENEWED

An unexpected guest has joined the back-to-nature or do-your- own - thing or commune movement.

According to the American Museum of Natural History in New York, human lice, almost eradicated by DDT powders developed during World War II, are now staging a comeback as a result of communal living among young people with low standards of hygiene.

The museum even built an "Exhibit of the Month" around a wax model of Pediculus humanus corporus, the common body louse. And as it does with other primitive tribal groups, the museum has recreated a communal living scene, complete with used cups, dirty blankets and community hairbrush.

By no means are all communal groups lice-prone, the museum hastens to assure. If members maintain ordinary standards of personal grooming and hygiene, lice are not likely to appear. But when these standards are allowed to lapse, Mr. Louse and all his relatives join the group, bringing along a number of unpleasant diseases.

NO WELCOME FOR DEFECTORS

Most of the numerous proposals regarding amnesty for young Americans who have fled to other countries to avoid military service during a time of national danger leave us with a sense of nausea and disbelief.

Perhaps the next step will be erection of a national monument honoring the memory of Benedict Arnold?

These young men have forfeited their rights to American citizenship by refusing to accept the responsibilities of that citizenship. To restore such unearned privilege would be to make a mockery of the sacrifices of all the men who have given themselves in battle over the years to gain and maintain the free American system and to suggest that all the dedicated citizen soldiers of our grand heritage were fools.

In our view, these draft-dodgers have, to all intents and purposes, committed the crime of treason. They have chosen to make international declarations that they do not believe in the government, the goals, the ideals or the people of the United States.

That they should desire to return, holding such views, is most remarkable. That they should expect to be received with forgiveness and praise is unbelievable.

Hothouse plants grown under the shelter of doting mothers' skirts and protected from every danger to which all free men are subject, they are well equipped to reside in some land where a king or dictator can make their decisions for them and where thinking individually or acting with personal initiative or making intelligent personal judgment are not among the requirements of citizenship.

These are not even prodigal sons returning home to ask forgiveness for their sins and extend promises of mending their erroneous ways. If this were the case, we might feel a bit more compassionate toward them.

Instead, they would return as heroes who defied the rules and laws which apply to everyone else and be hailed as leaders of a movement toward international peace.

On the contrary, if they are leaders of anything it is anarchy and the destruction of human dignity, goals which no true American ever will embrace.

They have exhibited a philosophy which could lead only to the ultimate enslavement of most of mankind.

Perhaps there is a place for them (and we have some unspeakable ideas about the identity of that place) but it certainly is not the United States of America.

Grant them full amnesty?

Better to deliver the keys to the White House direct to the Kremlin and extend our collective wrists to receive the chains of slavery, wherein there is no peace.

THE PARTIES CHANGING

More and more you hear it — the two party system is changing. Or ending.

There are a number of reasons given:

The old system of patronage is too weak to be meaningful any more — why even postmasters are no longer selected on a party basis;

Both parties promise the same things — the only difference is that each party claims it can deliver better than the other;

The Civil War is finally behind us — the generations of Democrats who voted their ticket just to be loyal to the South have mostly cooled down or died off;

Television has made it more possible for an independent candidate — or at least one not with the blessing of the party leaders— to compete in primaries and elections;

And other reasons.

Certainly, the old feelings of fierce party loyalty are not here anymore.

Abe Lincoln got one vote in Audrain County — and surprisingly that fellow was permitted to leave town alive;

Strong men wept when told one of their children who had moved north, had weakened and voted for a GOP candidate;

No longer do you hear a candidate described: "He may be a son of a - - - -, but he's our son of a - - - -."

The feeling, the emotion, the tone of party loyalty has changed.

So it may be true, the two parties are weakening and may even be disappearing.

However, we hope not.

We don't like some of the alternatives.

One would be a man on a white horse — a quasi dictator-type with strength in both parties. We join those many Americans who fear too much strength in too few hands.

Another alternative would be a true Labor Party and a true Conservative Party. That means when one is elected, the country goes far in their direction. For example, if a Labor Party is elected, steel is nationalized, transportation is, medical service is ... And once nationalized, un- nationalizing is almost impossible.

So we hope the two parties survive somewhat like they are. They have never been too good. But at the same time, they are better than some alternatives...

THIS IS PURE NONSENSE

We see that someone has jumped up with the suggestion that Missouri adopt a plan under which the two branches of the Legislature will be in session twelve months of each year.

Most Missourians, including the editor, will be against that.

They do not believe there is sufficient work at the legislative level to keep the Representatives and Senators busy twelve months each year.

With state finances as they now are, they do not believe it wise to ad millions of extra costs that would come with year- around sessions.

They also believe that more money would have to be paid to legislators who, if putting in full time, would have little if any time left for their regular occupations, as they now do. There is not even an estimate on this cost, nor on the possibility of getting good men for the full time job.

And- lastly, they believe that, if the Legislature now doesn't have the time it needs, it could find that time by working from early Monday through late Friday, as others in our state do, instead of the usual two or three day sessions weekly.

H E L P! THIS is a call for assistance from the "MEN" 20 years old and older, most of whom have served their country in time of war or in its military forces. We want you to write each of your United States senators and your congressman, asking them not to forgive those deserters and cowards who left their country when called upon for service. Some of them are deserters — some of them have gone to foreign countries just to escape doing the duty their American citizenship requires of them. We have written to both of our senators and to our congressman and as you will see by their letters, no one seems to be willing to take a stand against amnesty. That's why we're calling on you to add your voice to ours. What future does the United States have if a precedent is set permitting anyone to dodge their military duty?

For a number of years, Andrew Carnegie made up the deficit for the N.Y. Philharmonic Society. Then, one year, at a meeting of the directors he balked, "I don't think this should be my responsibility he told the group. "You raise half the deficit from other donors and I'll give you the remaining half."

A few days later the chairman informed the philanthropist that the money had been raised. "Good!" Carnegie said. "Would you mind telling me where you got it?"

"Not at all," the chairman said. "We got it from Mrs. Carnegie."

DISARMAMENT TALKS AND SOVIET MISSILE BUILDUP

The Soviet Union is making good use of the SALT disarmament talks. The longer the talks go on, the greater becomes the Soviet missile strength. Writing in the American Security Council's Washington Report, Dr. Stefan Prossony, well-known authority on communist strategy and tacts, has pointed out the way the Soviets have used disarmament talks as a cover for their strategic arms buildup.

In 1968, the USSR had only 600 ICBMs, including fewer than 100 of their heaviest missile, the SS-9. By the time the second round of SALT talks began in 1970, the Soviet arsenal had grown to 1200. During each of the second, third, fourth and fifth rounds, the Soviets added another 100 missiles.

In the words of Dr. Possony: "The longer we talked the more missiles the Soviets built. At present, the USSR has nearly 1,600 ICBMs, including 300 SS-9s. Thus, while the American public was being told that the USSR was really 'serious' about arms limitation, the Soviets were actually serious about adding no less than 1,000 ICBMs."

In the space of two years, while the U.S. blindly negotiated for a disarmament agreement, the Soviets augmented their missile force by a number equal to our entire Minuteman force.

The only sensible course for us now is to break off the SALT talks and build up our own missile forces to at least keep pace with our enemy's. Dr. Possony urges the President to "resolutely silence that anit-defense clique with the overpowering arguments which are at his disposal" -- the clear evidence of growing U.S. military weakness coupled with increasing Soviet strength.

NEW YORK (AP) — Bashing her film husband over the head with a poker "really isn't my scene," actress Joan Collins says wryly of her role in her first, and she claims, her last horror movie.

Miss Collins, who looks lovely as she calmly commits bloody murder in one of the five segments making up "Tales from the Crypt," described her part in the film as "murdering my husband and then running around looking frightened while being attacked and murdered myself by a homicidal maniac wearing a Santa Claus suit. Good, clean, simple fun!"

The attractive actress says she has turned down offers to appear in other horror films because "I find it very difficult to keep a straight face while doing the sort of theatrics that are required in this type of film."

In "Tales," she points out, "I murder my husband for his insurance by hitting him over the head with a poker. That's ludicrous. I'd have to be built like King Kong to have hit him hard enough to kill him.

"That's what I mean about horror films. None of it makes sense. But if one is an actor one just goes ahead and does the job. Actually, I think everyone should do something once, and as far as horror goes I've just done it."

The British actress, former wife of actor Anthony Newley and now married to producer Ronald Kass, says, "I'd much rather be on television, which in England is very good. Actually I do appear on TV with monotonous regularity. They show some of my old movies and reruns of some of the TV series I worked in.

Miss Collins' movie credits include: "The Virgin Queen," "The Girl on the Red Velvet Swing," "Island in the Sun," and "Rally Round the Flag Boys." She says she hopes to act later this year in a television production of "The Taming of the Shrew."

She says she prefers to appear on television rather than in films because "in TV there is not so much emphasis on technique, of playing it exactly as the director wants you to play it.

"I think I learned more from a half dozen TV shows than I did from 15 or 20 movies because on TV I was left to my own devices a great deal. I was left free to experiment with different ways of doing things. In films, you know, you are pretty much the puppet of the director."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON -- Hubert Humphrey's confidential political papers suggest that the showdown for the Democratic presidential nomination will be fought in California, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

This, at least, is the view of his chief political scout, the veteran Ken O'Donnell, who once belonged to the late President John F. Kennedy's tight, little braintrust.

In a memo to Humphrey stamped "Personal and Confidential," O'Donnell contends: "The four big ones are Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and California. These are the states which determine national elections, and beating Muskie in these states will determine the nomination.

"And it is right here – in these states-- that your strength with labor will tell ....Your strength in the labor movement is rapidly consolidating and will be the determining factor in the major primaries, in the big industrial states."

O'Donnell also believes that President Nixon can be beaten. "Despite Nixon's favorable rating at this time with the public, and occasional short-time recoveries his polls show a steady, long-term deterioration," O'Donnell argues.

"There is no reason to expect that he can reverse such a three-year trend. He will be weaker, not stronger, by next Fall.

"I would continue to concentrate my fire on him. He is the target," O'Donnell urges Humphrey. "You have the basic issue -- which is jobs and inflation -- the two problems that he is making no progress solving."

WISCONSIN WORRY

In another internal memo, Humphrey urges his campaign managers not to be 'deluded" by favorable soundings in Wisconsin.

"We did well in Florida...," writes Humphrey. "The task in Wisconsin will be be much more difficult.

"Wisconsin is not 'Humphrey territory.' In spite of what you may be telling the press or the press may be telling its readers, Wisconsin is an independent state with independent voters.

"They resent anybody taking the state for granted, particularly someone from Minnesota. It's also a state where there traditionally has been a large Republican crossover in the primaries....

"I believe that Ed Muskie has done very effective work and, as of this moment, is strongly in the lead in the seventh congressional district around Wausau.

"(George) McGovern will be very strong in the agricultrual part of western Wisconsin, and I believe the third and tenth congressional districts will be hard fought by him and that he may very well, as of this moment, be in the lead in both of those districts.

"The sixth and eighth congressional districts strike me as strong Muskie, as well as Wallace territory.

"Our best prospects are in the industrial areas, the first, fourth and fifth congressional districts around the Milwaukee, Racine, Kenosha areas. But here we've got to understand that Ed Muskie will be very strong. There is a heavy Polish-American constituency in that area....

"I don't want to sound pessimistic, and I don't believe in pessimism, but It's important we all be realistic...I don't care what the press say about our chances, it's important that we in our own political organization understand the facts."

GUARD DUTY

As the runt of the military litter, the Coast Guard has only one reservist on Capital Hill. He is Sen. Claiborne Pell, the aristocratic Democratic from Rhode Island.

Until recently, there was also a Coast Guard man on the House side. He was Charles E. Chamberlain, a Republican from Michigan and a former captain in the Coast Guard reserve.

Chamberlain's military record, which we have obtained, shows how far the armed services will go to keep their Capitol Hill brass hat happy.

On May 5, 1966 Chamberlain rode down to the Potomac River and watched a change-of -command ceremony aboard a Coast Guard cutter. He was awarded promotion and retirement credits for his effort.

Later that summer Chamberlain toured resort cities along the Atlantic coast from Massachusetts to Virginia. He inspected six Coast Guard stations along the way and was awarded six reserve points.

On 19 occasions last year Chamberlain hopped a taxi to the Pentagon for Navy briefings. He was credited with 1 points.

Chamberlain also got official credits for presenting awards, attending NATO meetings and "assisting with public relations projects."

Chamberlain finally retired from the active reserve last November. He is still a congressman, however, and he is still doing what he always did -- he is protecting the Coast Guard, if not the coast.

Dowd Decries Busing Talk In Campaign

KENNETT, Mo. (AP) — Edward L. Dowd, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, said today busing was not a pertinent issue in the Missouri political campaign.

"This is a federal constitutional question. Candidates for governor should not be dragging this issue by the heels into a political campaign," he said in remarks prepared for a Kiwanis Club luncheon in Kennett.

"It is unfortunate that candidates for state office are marking the education of our children a political football," Dowd said.

Fair Housing Bill Wins First Round Approval From Senate

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A fair housing bill won first round approval in the Missouri Senate Tuesday on a 17-15 vote. That is one short of the 18 that would be needed to pass it later.

First the bill must run the gamut of the Sente Budget Control Committee because its cost is estimated at $125,000. That would make its chances for passage by both houses dubious this late in the session.

The bill by Sen. Raymond Howard, D-St. Louis, one of the Senate's two black members, would require the owner or lessor of residential property to sell or lease to anyone regardless of race, creed, color, religion or national origin. But the owner could choose between offers if he had several bona fide offers to buy or rent.

If a person felt he was discriminated against, he could file a complaint with the Missouri Human Rights Commission. If he still felt aggrieved, he could bring a court action asking for actual and punitive damages.

If the complainant failed to win in court, he would be liable for all the costs and attorney fees.

The bill was criticized as "slapped together" and poorly drafted but Howard said it was modeled after a city of St. Louis ordinance and would serve the purpose.

He said it was the first time in more than 100 years of statehood that such a bill had been debated in the Senate.

He said the purpose was to guarantee that "anybody who has the money has a right to buy or rent a home in the neighborhood of his choosing."

He said the problem has been ignored in Missouri for over a hundred years.

"When you relegate people to little pockets," he said, "you create slums, ghettoes, crime and unhealthy conditions."

Also advanced to position for passage was a bill demanded by the federal government to keep Missouri's welfare laws in compliance with federal regulations.

It would require a welfare recipient to be kept on the rolls until his eligibility was decided after a formal hearing. The estimated cost the first year for hearing referees is $95,000.

ADC-U Reinstatement Clears Another Hurdle

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Advocates of the ADCU program—extending Aid to Dependent Children benefits to families with unemployed fathers living at home—cleared another hurdle Tuesday night.

The Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee approved the measure to reinstate the program which had been in effect on a trial basis for three years until last Dec. 31.

The Senate deleted a provision from the House-passed bill that would have required ADC fathers to accept any employment offered on local public works projects for a $2 an hour pay credit.

But it still requires that recipients accept either appropriate jobs or job training or forfeit the $33 a month allowance. That provision was expanded by the committee to include part-time work.

The next step is clearance of the Senate Budget Control Committee. Then, if it passes the full Senate, the bill will have to be returned to the House for approval of the changes.

The committee also approved a bill to expand Medicaid benefits to cover the cost of eye examinations, but not glasses.

Another recommended change would relax the eligibility requirements for benefits under most state welfare programs.

House Kills 4 Bills In Quick Order

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri House killed four bills in quick succession Tuesday. But on two of them the vote was so close the sponsors may try to get them reconsidered later.

A bill to let the liquor control supervisor put license holders on probation for violations died 81-66, giving it just one less than the number of affirmative votes needed for House passage.

Now the supervisor either suspends or revokes a liquor or beer license for any law violation.

Also killed on a close vote was a bill to let towns or villages levy a tax on public utilities to finance a solid waste disposal system. It died 79-63.

Opponents called it a camouflage and subterfuge. tax levies on utilities are just passed on to the consumers—the local taxpayers, they said.

Also defeated were bills to:

Require the assessment of the merchants and manufacturers tax on goods held Jan. 1, rather than at the high point between Jan. 1 and April 1. Opponents said the inventories are at the year's low point Jan 1, just after the Christmas sales. The vote was 62-85.

Permit a person who has been convicted of a liquor law violation to get a new license in the liquor business if he can obtain a full pardon from his conviction. The vote was 59-87.

Passed and sent to the Senate were bills to:

Let counties designate someone to receive reports of fires and check the possibility of arson. It was a substitute for a more costly fire marshal bill.

Revise the Urban Redevelopment Act.

Exempt the income of a minor who is attending school in checking the eligibility of the family for welfare assistance.

Require that the assessor notify the property owner of any assessed valuation change.

Put the civil employes of the Kansas City Police Department in the same retirement plan as other civil employes of the city are.

Monday the House gave tentative approval to a bill boosting the state gasoline tax from 5 cents a gallon to 7 cents.

One thing that Daylight Saving Time does for most of us is to confuse.

PARENTS OF THE NEW MADRID COUNTY R1 ENLARGED SCHOOL DISTRICT

May I call your attention to the move that is being made by the power structure of the County to defeat one candidate in the upcoming school election. Never have we seen such effort by the politicians, and launched so openly, in an attempt to take total control of the School system.

It would not be a victory for the children of the district if the machine politicians are successful in their effort to do this. It would not be a victory for the children of the district if the people of the district allow this to happen. Go back with me just four years ago and listen, - but that's another story; watch for it tomorrow.

Holy Week Tragic Time on Highways

JEFFERSON CITY – The Missouri State Highway Patrol reported today that Holy Week, the eight-day period from Palm Sunday through Easter Sunday, is usually a tragic time on Missouri highways.

Patrol records show that a total of 184 people have died in Missouri traffic accidents over the eight days during Holy Week. Last year, 34 traffic deaths were recorded in the State during that particular period. The most tragic day in that week was Good Friday when nine persons were killed in vehicular mishaps.

Col. E. I. (Mike) Hockaday, the Superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol, urged both drivers and pedestrians to be extra cautious during Holy Week. He reminded drivers to watch for pedestrians who may be walking to special church services. Pedestrians were urged to cross streets only at corners or crosswalks.

"Many people will be traveling to visit families and friends during the Easter Sunday weekend," Hockaday stated. "That will mean heavy traffic on all Missouri highways. It is imperative that motorists use extra caution through this period and accept their moral responsibility.

"The Easter Holy Week traffic death toll can be held to a minimum," the Colonel concluded," if all motorists obey all traffic laws and use common sense."

Innovations To Aid Rural Area Growth Urged

CARTHAGE, Mo. (AP) – Innovations such as agricultural-industrial parks and agricultural-vocational schools could alleviate part of the problem of forcing rural Missourians to urban areas, Democratic gubernatorial candidate Edward L. Dowd contended Tuesday night.

"What the rural areas need more than anything else is a commitment, a firm commitment from their state government that everything will be done to make their regions attractive and prosperous places to live," Dowd said.

Agricultural-industrial parks, he added, could encourage industrial and manufacturing firms to process raw materials near where they are produced

Baby Three Months Premature Grows

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — At 9 pounds, 10 ounches, sixmonth-old Christopher Michael Moore is unusually small.

But in the eyes of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore of Kansas City, Kan., he's something of a giant — especially compared to his birth size Sept. 4.

Christopher was born three months prematurely and weighed 1¹ ⁄₂ pounds.

Dr. Herbert Davis, pediatrician, and Dr. James Bickley, obstetrician, the family's doctors, say Christopher was the smallest baby to survive in their experiences.

During his first three and one-half months the baby lived in a unit designed to simulate as much as possible the mother's body and was fed from a tube inserted into his stomach through his nose.

Mrs. Moore says she was not permitted to hold him until three months after he was born.

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) Cardinal John Wright, head of the Vatican's Congregation for the Clergy, said here that the shortage of priests is "the greatest and most urgent problem" facing the church.

Quertermous-Smith

CHARLESTON — On March 4 at 7:30 p.m. Miss Debra Lynn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Smith of Charleston, and Kenneth Wayne Quertermous, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Quertermous, also of Charleston, were married in the First Baptist Church in Charleston with the Rev. H. W. Chaney officiating.

The wedding rings were designed and handmade by the bride. They were wide silver bands with silver wire looping across the top, and engraved with their initials and date.

Prior to the ceremony the candles were lighted by Tom and Jerry Smith, brothers of the bride. During the ceremony Orville Almon, accompanied by Miss Susan Brown at the organ, sang "More." Following the ceremony, Almon sang " The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt in prayer. Miss Brown played the theme from "Romeo and Juliet" for the attendants to enter and the traditional wedding marches for the processional and recessional, and a selection of wedding music, including the theme from "Love Story" while the guests were being seated.

The bride chose for her maid of honor, her sister, Miss Vici Smith, with her younger sister, Janet, a junior bridesmaid. The other bridesmaids were Miss Linda Redmond of Hempstead, N.Y., Mrs. Rick Batey of Jonesboro, Ark., and Miss Frances ue Moran of Charleston.

Miss Suellen Solomon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Solomon of Cairo, served as flower girl.

The bride, escorted down the white carpeted aisle on the arm of her father, chose for her wedding a floor length gown of silk faille featuring a high neckline and long tapered sleeves. The neckline was trimmed with rows of French lace centered with small pale pink embroidered roses. This extended down the front of the dress and around the hem.

Her chapel length tiered veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet styled headpiece of silk organza. She carried a long bouquet of daisies, carnations and and pom-pons. The bride and her father paused on the way to the altar to present her mother with an American Beauty rose. During recessional the groom presented his mother with an American Beauty rose.

Kirk Chronister of Poplar Bluff served as his uncle's best man. The other groomsmen were Kent Chronister, Denny Ray Quertermous and Tim Fletcher, all nephews of the groom. Ushers were Keith Quertermous and Tom and Jerry Smith.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church with Mrs. James Moran as hostess.

Joey Quertermous and Mrs. John Holt presided at the refreshment table. Mrs. Larry Tharnish attended the guest register.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Fort Walton Beach, Fla. After a week's trip, they are now at home at 306a East Marshall.

Mrs. Quertermous received her B.S. in Education with an art major from Southeast Missouri State College in January of this year. She has been substitute teaching in the Charleston schools following her graduation.

Quertermous graduated in 1970 from Southeast Missouri State College with a degree in business administration. He is presently employed with his father and brothers in the construction business.

Ann Landers

Caged Cat Upsets Animal Lover

Dear Ann Landers: Please don't tell me to MYOB. I love animals --- especially cats. What I see happening next door is breaking my heart. The young couple has a beautiful Angora. Prince Albert was so majestic and grand looking that I couldn't take my eyes off him. The couple had their first child six weeks ago. They heard somewhere that cats sometimes jump into the cribs of infants and smother them to death. So they had a cage made for Prince Albert, and there he is --- cramped and miserable. I believe the poor creature is dying of solitary confinement and lack of love. His fur isn't nearly as fluffy and pretty as it once was. He seems so lifeless and sad.

I think it is criminal that this couple should be hung up on an old wives' tale and the poor cat has to suffer for their ignorance. I have offered to find a home for Prince Albert but they don't don't want to part with him. I hate to call the Humane Society and report my neighbors. What should I do? --- Compassion For All Living Things.

Dear Compassion: Call the Humane Society and ask them to send someone out to talk to the couple. Perhaps if they knew the facts they could be persuaded to let Prince Albert out of the can.

Dear Ann Landers; I'm a young woman in my late 20s who holds a very responsible job. When I was in college (age 19) I contracted V.D. I went to a doctor, took treatments and was cured. That experience was such a traumatic one that I refused to date for several years. I felt unworthy of a decent relationship. I developed such a guilt complex that it darn near wrecked my life.

Six months ago I began to go with a very fine person. He is talking about marriage and I am very much interested. But I'm scared to death that I might not pass the blood test. Someone told me that once a person has had syphillis it will show up in a standard Wasserman. Is this true? I would rather die than have it known that I once had V.D. If we went to Canada or Mexico to be married would we need a blood test? Please give me some advice, Ann. I can't discuss this with anyone who knows me. If I start to ask questions I might reveal my anxiety. --- Carbondale Headache

Dear Carb: A person who has been cured of syphillis will not flunk his Wasserman. It seems to me, however, that you should have had periodic blood tests to make certain there has been no recurrence. I urge you to go to your doctor or to the City or County Health Department at once. If you get an all-clear (and I'm betting you will), say yes --- and the best of luck to you both.

Dear Ann Landers: I would like to comment on the letter signed "Bittersweet" --- the college girl who agreed to a live-in arrangement with a fellow --- "no rings, no strings." She was broken hearted because she was sure the fellow would marry her after a year of the "trial setup," but she was mistaken.

I wish I could trade places with Bittersweet. My live-in guy married me because I made such a scene he was afraid I'd kill myself --- or him.

The marriage was disaster. After six months I was glad to be rid of him. There's a moral here: No marriage is worth a damn unless both people want it. --- Just Bitter.

Dear Just: Yeah --- and even then it can be a disaster. Thanks for writing.

THEY LAUGHED WHEN I SAID I COULD LOSE WEIGHT

says Mrs. Ken Schmidt of Norfolk, Neb.

"I was bulging fat. I weighed 205 lbs., ashamed to go swimming or play tennis. Then I heard about X-11 Reducing Plan. When I decided to take off that ugly fat, my friends laughed at me. They said it couldn't be done because they all know how I like to eat."

I LOST 80 LBS.

"Today, my weight is down to 125 pounds. Now even the friends who laughed at me don't recognize me right away. Sometimes they pass me by and then turn around and call me back. I smile, because they just can't believe it's the same old Marge.

NOW YOU, TOO, CAN

EAT WELL ...and lose that fat!

The X-11 Reducing Plan is not a crash or starvation diet. You eat less, but you won't go around hungry. JOHN MARK

The earliest account of the life of Jesus Christ is ascribed to John Mark, author of the Gospel of Mark. He was a son of Mary, a woman who hosted several meetings of the apostles following the Resurrection on Easter morning. Mark was in the position to gain firsthand the experiences and accounts of those who knew Jesus. Other traditions hold that he was near during the arrest of Jesus on Maunday Thursday, escaping the soldiers who grabbed his clothes rather than him. The care and diligence of Mark's literary resource gave aid to other gospel writers. In later years Mark spent considerable time with St. Peter and died a martyr to the cause he represented.

A little boy was fishing on a pond
Hoping to catch a cat fish or a drum
And then he said them old fish,
They must be dumb or they would take on that big fat worm
And then he said oh how I wish I could catch one
For that would be better than none--
And then a fish took on the worm
And sure enough he caught just one.

The Prayer from The Upper Room

He said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? How is it that ye have no faith?
PRAYER: Our Father, we pray that we may ever be so mindful of Thy presence that our faith will be strong enough to meet our greatest neen. In our Savior's name we pray. Amen.

New England derived its name from Capt. John Smith, who explored its shore in 1614 for a group of London merchants, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

And maybe you aren't aware that if your income increased last year, you may be able to save tax dollars by "income averaging."
Well, when it comes to income taxes, H & R Block is aware of just about everything.
H & R Block's fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million families we served last year.

City Employe Can Be Klan Official

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Obie was a grand dragon of the Klu Klux Klan and did nothing to conceal his identity as such when he was hired as a city dispatcher. Despite the fact that he performed his job efficiently and engaged in no klan activity on city time, certain city officials subsequently decided that his being a grand dragon wasn't so grand and had him bounced from his job because of his klan membership. Without ado, Obie demanded his job back in court.

"Just becaust I'm a member of the Klu klux Klan," he argued, "is no reason to fire me. After all, I don't go to work in a white sheet and, while I'm on the job, I'm no different than anybody else."

"That's not true," responded several city officials. "While he may not come to work in a hood, everybody knows it's there whether they can see it or not. And, it just doesn't look good for a city to employ a man who stands for what he tries to get others to fall for."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you order the city to give Grand Dragon Obie back his job?

This is how the judge ruled: YES! The judge held that a man may not be fired from a city job because of his membership in the Kly Klux Klan so long as he performs his job properly and without effort to further the purposes of the klan. Klansmen, noted the judge, are no more disqualified from holding public employment than is a Presbyterian or a Black Panther or a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy or of the Daughters of the American Revolution or the American Legion or the NAACP.

Free thought and debate, concluded the judge, guaranteed by the Constitution, prevents public authorities from discharging public employes merely because of views and associations of which they do not approve. (Based upon a 1971 United States District Court Decision)

Stamps In The News

AP Newsfeatures

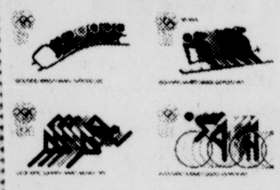
By SYD KRONISH

Four U.S. stamps, featuring overlapping silhouettes of athletes, will salute the Olympic Games. They will be issued in Washington, D.C. Aug. 17, preceding the summer games to be held in Munich, Germany.

The four denominations — 6 cents, 8 cents, 11 cents and 15 cents — will depict an adaptation of the official symbol of four sports: cycling, bobsled racing, skiing and track.

According to the U.S. Postal Service, the denominations reflect the geographical scope of the Olympics. Three of the stamps are for postal rates effective in the U.S., Canada and Mexico (6 cents for postal cards, 8 cents for surface letters and 11 cents for air mail). The 15 center is for the surface letter rate and air mail post card rate beyond the U.S., Canada and Mexico.

On the upper left corner of each stamp is the word "U.S." superimposed over the five interlocking circle symbol of the Olympics. Across the bottom of the skiing and bobsledding stamps is the inscription "XI Olympic Winter Games — Sapporo 1972", while the wording on the track and cycling stamps is "XX Olympic Summer Games — Munich 1972."



The designer of the stamps is Lance Wyman whose work is being seen for the first time on U.S. adhesives although he has produced 39 stamp designs for Mexico.

First day cover collectors may send their requests prior to Aug. 17 but will be reminded again with specific particulars in this column.

Looking ahead to 1973, the U.S. Postal Service has announced that there will be a commemorative stamp to honor the 500th anniversary of the birth of Nicolaus Copernicus, Polish astronomer. Also reported is the resumption of the Historic Preservation Series and the American Painting Series in 1973. The Bicentennial Series will have a special issue next year as well.

Coming up this year on the U.S. stamp schedule is an 8-cent commemorative to mark the 100th anniversary of the mail order business and also a commemorative to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the National Parent-Teachers Association. Designs and dates will be given soon.

If you missed sending your requests for first day cancellations of the launch of Apollo 16, you have a reprieve. Since the launch was postponed from Feb. 25 to April 16, the deadline date for submission of covers has been extended to March 25.

Washington Report | By Senator Symington

EQUAL RIGHTS AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- It is my belief that women as well as men should have the right to seek those situations in life for which, as individuals, they are qualified. This concept is at the core of the Equal Rights Amendment which recently received overwhelming approval by the Senate and has now been sent to the states for ratification as the 27th Amendment to the Constitution. The House passed the proposed amendment last October.

The proposed amendment states: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any state on account of sex."

If approved by three-fourths of the State legislatures within the next seven years, the Equal Rights Amendment will then become a part of our Constitution but would not become effective until two years after ratification by the States.

Inasmuch as state laws govern many matters which would be affected by the Amendment, such as laws relating to marriage, grounds for divorce, property rights of widows and widowers and presumptions as to the parent preferred for child custody, the ratification process will afford an excellent and needed opportunity for the states to consider how present laws will be molded to conform to the greater realities of today's families and how they may be mady to conform to the proposed Constitutional amendment. Among other laws which would also be affected are these:

* In some states women are not legally permitted to handle property and start businesses on an equal basis with men.

* Discriminatory practices in state institutions, such as state colleges and graduate schools, and hiring and promoting in public schools and colleges as well as state and local government jobs.

* Statutes in some states impose heavier prison sentiences on women than men for the same criminal offense.

* Selective Service Law. Equal rights also mean equal responsibilities, and thus women would no longer be exempt from the draft.

In its application to military service, the amendment, however, would not require women to undertake military tasks for which they as individuals might not be suited, just as all men do not meet the standards required for induction or for particular assignments.

While women now volunteer and serve in the military service, they do so under limitation as to number; also educational and age requirements are different for women than for men.

By affording women equal responsibilities with men, women are assured of the same benefits in the military service. There are educational benefits under the GI bill, employment preferences inside and outside Government for veterans and also special advantages in home loans.

I voted for the Equal Rights Amendment in the belief that it is a symbol, needed now, to assure that the fundamental law of the United States will afford men and women an equal opportunity for growth as individuals in accordance with their desires and capacities.

PAUL THE MISSIONARY

The author of much suppression and imprisonment of the young Christian church became its chief writer and architect: St. Paul. A bright, zealous advocate of traditional Judaism, a strong member of the Pharisees, Paul had dogged the first Christians with his pursuit—threatening imprisonment and more. Yet Paul (known as Saul) did not keep his commitment to track down suspected Christians in Damascus. For on the road, he had a vision of the Lord who asked, "Why do you persecute me, Saul?"

Temporarily blinded, Saul was baptized "Paul," soon to become a world leader of the Christian faith. St. Paul represents those millions of believers who never met Jesus in the "flesh" but came to know Him in the Spirit. His journeys roamed across the known world and his letters to new and growing churches make up the largest single bloc of material in the New Testament.

Dogs, Indians Concede At Dark

The Sikeston Bulldogs baseballers helped Jackson open its season Tuesday afternoon with darkness the eventual winner. The game had to be called after five innings with the score tied 3-3.

The Indians put on a last inning rally to pull into a tie and avert their first loss of the season by scoring one run in the last of the fifth. The Bulldogs had forged ahead in the top of the frame.

Bob Blankenship started on the mound for the Bulldogs but had to give way in the bottom of the fifth after Kenny Stokes' pinch hit for him. Richard Blankenship finished the game for Sikeston. Bazzell did the Indian pitching chores and went five innings.

Jackson began scoring in the second. Neither team could cross the plate in the first. Sikeston was unable to make any progress in the second. The Indians pushed across a lone run in the inning and led 1-0 until the Bulldogs rallied to tie the game in the third.

With two on, Jim Saulters singled to knock in the tying run. Jackson came back in the fourth to go ahead, 2-1.

Sikeston battled back in the fifth to push across two more runs and take a 3-2 lead. Rick Eisenbach and Greg Colwick singled before Rick Dyer delivered the game's only extra base hit — a double — to drive in two runs. Jackson solved the relief, pitching to tie the game as darkness set in.

Sikeston will tangle with Kelly at VFW stadium Monday afternoon in a makeup game.

Cards Bow To And Wowed By Pirates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Robertson won instant fame in the 1971 World Series as the world's longest bunter. Now, he's trying to win acclaim as a spring training blaster— and without the bunt sign.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' first baseman hit a home run against Baltimore last October to win a Series' game. He didn't know until he had circled the bases that Manager Danny Murtaugh had signaled for a sacrifice.

Robertson homered twice against St. Louis Tuesday for a 6-2 exhibition baseball victory. It was the second time within a week he slugged two homers in a game. The pair against the Cards gives him five for the spring training games and 16 runs batted in.

In other games, Cincinnati topped Houston 7-3, Baltimore routed Texas 6-1, Detroit nipped the New York Mets 5-4, Philadelphia edged the Chicago White Sox 3-2, Los Angeles trimmed the New York Yankees 6-5, Minnesota and Boston tied 3-3 in a contest stopped by rain, California beat Oakland 61, the Chicago Cubs downed San Diego 8-6, Cleveland defeated San Francisco 6-2, Milwaukee clipped the Cleveland "B" team, 5-3, and the Montreal Expos beat the Atlanta Braves 5-4 in 10 innings.

Denis Menke homered and Joe Morgan and Cesar Geronimo each drove in runs for Cincinnati. All three are former Houston Astros, taking a little preseason revenge.

Bobby Grich doubled in two runs in the third inning and Andy Etchebarren homered for two more Baltimore runs.

Mets' pitcher Brent Strom's balk gave Detroit its winning run with the bases loaded in the 10th inning after homers by Al Kaline and Bill Freehan in the ninth had tied the game.

Greg Luzinski's homer in the ninth inning gave the Phillies their victory over Chicago. Don Money had homered earlier for Philadelphia.

Willie Davis' homer in the eighth broke the Dodgers' 5-5 tie with the Yankees. New York scored four unearned runs in the first inning and Los Angeles came back for two unearned runs in the third.

A two-run homer by Harmon Killebrew pulled Minnesota into a tie with Boston and the game was called because of rain after eight innings.

The Cubs scored five runs in the eighth inning, then Carmine Fanzone homered in the ninth to defeat San Diego. Del Unser homered for two runs for Cleveland, which beat San Francisco.

Dave May's three-run homer was the big blast in Milwaukee's five-run seventh inning against the Cleveland "B" team.

Jim Fairey's run-producing single gave the Expos their triumph over Atlanta.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) – The Amateur Athletic Union will decide within a week where to hold the first junior track meet with the Soviet Union, an AAU spokesman said Tuesday.

He said Sacramento, Calif.; Los Angeles and El Paso, Tex., have offered sites for the event July 28-29.

LONDON (AP) -- One new player, Jill Cooper, was included in a five- girl team named today as Britain's Wightman Cup tennis squad to face the United States.

The other four were Virginia Wade, Mrs. Joyce Williams, Winnie Shaw and Nell Truman.

Britain is scheduled to meet the United States for the Wightman Cup at Wimbledon June 16-17.

Notre Dame Pitcher Ken Buessink struck out six and gave only one walk. Hitting was ligh. John Klipfel had the only two hits of the night for the Bulldogs.

Cape Central's Greg Best batted in two runs with a double in the fourth. In fifth, Ken Hosea sacrificed to bring in the other run of the game for thy Tigers.

Nets, Squires Battle For Second

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — The New York Nets won two games Tuesday night—theirs and Virginia's.

New York closed out its regular season with a 92-86 victory over the Indiana Pacers, while the Virginia Squires dropped a 127-121 decision to the Carolina Cougars.

As a result, the Nets pulled within one half-game of Virginia in the race for second place in the American Basketball Association's East Division. The Squires wind up their regular schedule at Memphis tonight.

If Virginia loses tonight, the teams will finish in a tie with 44-40 won-loss records. A onegame playoff would be held to determine the second place finisher.

What's the difference between finishing second and third?

The difference is in firstround playoff opponents, and its a big difference.

The second place finisher will meet the Floridians, who assured themselves of a playoff berth Tuesday night by beating Memphis 118-107 and clinching fourth place in the ABA East.

The team that finishes third, meanwhile, has the dubious honor of drawing the Kentucky Colonels, the club with the best record in the entire ABA, as a first-round opponent.

In other ABA games, Dallas edged Utah 98-95 and Kentucky nipped Pittsburgh 134-132.

In opening games of the National Basketball Association Western Conference playoffs, Golden State upset Milwaukee 117-106 and Los Angeles defeated Chicago 95-80.

The Nets did their part in the battle for second place by beating Indiana. Now they can just hope Memphis beats Virginia tonight.

John Roche starting at guard in place of Bill Melchionni, out with a broken hand, scored 22 points for the Nets, but the high man was Rick Barry, who celebrated his 28th birthday by scoring 32 points.

Roger Brown was high scorer for the Pacers with 23 points and center Mel Daniels added 22.

Wendell Ladner hit a jump shot with 45 seconds to go, breaking a late tie and sparking Carolina to victory over the Squires. Larry Miller was Carolina's high scorer with 29 points.

Despite their victory, the Cougars were eliminated from the playoff picture when the Floridians defeated Memphis.

Warren Jabali tallied 30 points, Larry Jones 25 and Willie Long 21 for the Floridians, while Randy Denton was hegh man for Memphis with 21.

Donnie Freeman scored 19 points, Rich Jones 17 and George Johnson 13 to pace Dallas. It broke a string of 34 games in which Freeman had scored at least 20 points.

Dan Issel paced Kentucky with 29 points and broke an ABA single season scoring record with 2,525 points in 82 games. That's one more than Charlie Scott of Virginia had in 73 games before jumping to Phoenix of the NBA. Issel has one regular season game remaining.

... Eagles Over Bobcats

DELTA — Coach Joe Scott's Oran Eagles opened their 1972 baseball season with an impressive win over the Bobcats, 6-2, Tuesday afternoon in a Scott-Miss conference game.

Lonnie Mobley collected the only two hits which Rick Irwin allowed in his opening game win.

Oran collected nine hits with Hahn, Mike Legrand, and Gary Shaffer smashing two apiece. Shaffer hit a triple.

Delta jumped into a 1-0 lead in the first but was unable to score another run until the sixth after the Eagles had put the game away with four runs in the fifth.

The Eagles came back to tie the game in the second on two hits. Oran added another run in the third on two more hits. The Eagles plated four runs in the fifth on three hits. Martin took the loss for Delta.

The Chaffee Red Devils visit the Eagles next Tuesday at 4 p.m.

"Improvement Likely," Says Baltimore Manager

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles have won 318 regular season games and nine straight in the playoffs while sweeping to three straight American League pennants.

For 1972, Manager Earl Weaver sees likely improvement for the Orioles.

"There's no reason we should be any worse," Weaver said, "and chances are we'll be better."

Dave McNally, one of four Baltimore 20-game winners last year, was out of action 38 days. Boog Powell, the league's Most Valuable Player of 1970, hit below his weight at .256. Paul Blair, off to a slow start, managed to hit just .262.

Weaver, always optimistic and aggressive, doesn't expect such misfortune again.

The Orioles never won a pennant until outfielder Frank Robinson arrived, and then they won four in six seasons. But Robinson was dealt off to the Los Angeles Dodgers. So the rest of the team is on its own.

Baltimore, never known for standing pat, could open the season with seven newcomers on the 25-man roster, including five rookies up from Rochester.

They include infielder Bobby Grich, who hit .383 and .336 the past two years, and outfielder Don Baylor, .327 and .313 the last two seasons. Both are labeled as "can't miss" prospects.

Also moving up from a productive farm system are Roric Harrison, 15-5, and reliever Mickey Scott, 9-1, and catcher Johnny Oates.

Moving to Baltimore in the Robinson trade are Doyle Alexander, 6-6 with Los Angeles, and reliever Bob O'Brien.

Mr. C. L. Blanton, Jr.,
Publisher
THE STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri 63801

Dear Mr. Blanton:

The Missouri General Assembly now has before it a bill which would increase the state's motor vehicle fuel tax from its present five cents a gallon to seven cents a gallon. The bill is HB-1443, sponsored by Representatives Robert DeVoy of Brookfield and Richard DeCoster of Canton.

I urge your consideration of the bill -- and invite your editorial support of it if you find that the facts justify the increase. We believe they do, for the following reasons:

(1) The last increase in the state motor fuel tax came in 1962. Since then our costs of construction and maintenance have risen sharply. construction costs, for example, rose forty percent in one recent two- year period.

(2) Our income has not risen nearly fast enough to keep pace with costs because our income base, highway user taxes, is fixed. On present revenues, we are hard put to continue our present rate of progress, not to mention expanding it. Yet all indications are that by the turn of the new century, three cars and trucks will be trying to move over Missouri's streets and highways for every two which clog them now.

(3) Only Missouri and Texas still have a nickel- a- gallon tax. Missouri refunds one cent of its nickel to cities and counties for their street and highway projects.

(4) The proposed increase would retain the same twenty percent refund level to the cities and counties, with the cities and counties receiving 1.4 cents out of every seven cents collected. That's a 40 percent increase.

We feel Missourians need to know why the proposed two- cent- a- gallon increase in the motor fuel tax is needed, and that you are in the best position to tell them. We invite your questions, pro and con, on the matter. Any assistance we can give you in assembling the facts about our highway program and its costs is at your disposal.

Very truly yours,
Thomas A. David
DIRECTOR OF HIGHWAYS

March 20, 1972

To the Editor of the Daily Sikeston Standard:

I will be most appreciative if you will print the enclosed article in your "Daily Standard" within the next few days.

Most sincerely,
Mrs. N. Richards
St. Louis, Mo.

Remember the days of yesteryear when the little town of Diehlstadt in Scott County was second to none in progressive activities for a place its size?

It had its share of professional men and women: doctors, bankers, teachers, ministers, judges and administrators.

It supported active churches with forceful preachers and church choirs made up of local people gifted with melodious voices. The church members were always in for a special treat when the doctor's wife joined the group. She was a product of a girls' finishing school in the East and had excelled in music.

During the time that the organ was a must in every home approximately 100 were sold in Diehlstadt and vicinity in a period of one year which alone tells us that the townspeople appreciated good music.

Many social gatherings were enjoyed in homes where group singing around the organ or piano, dancing, and tasty food were highlights of the evening.

As I reminisce I recall the prominent names of Julius Misfeldt, Dr. John F. Bagwell, Max L. Ostner, George Allen, the Ohmes families and many others who were loyal and dependable leaders of the vicinity.

In the good old summertime, ice cream socials were held in a community center where gallons and gallons of homemade ice cream and delicious "made from scratch" cakes were served the merrymakers.

Barbecues were another gala event. Ambitious men spent many hours preparing "done to a turn" pit barbecue to serve overflowing crowds who attended.

The chautauqua, the medicine show, and the circus made regular visits to Diehlstadt where they always found an eager and receptive audience

The passenger train was a Sunday attraction, and many gathered at the depot to await its arrival. They could not only purchase the Sunday newspaper there, but also enjoy a chat with friends and neighbors in the meantime. The friendly newsman on the train readily admitted that he sold more Sunday papers at Diehlstadt than at any other place on his run.

In watermelon season, Diehlstadt bustled with activity when miles and miles of horse drawn wagons, loaded with choice melons, traveled the sandy roads to town where the melons were loaded into box cars for shipment. At that time, Diehlstadt was a renowned railroad loading center. During this busy season, the town was always filled with watermelon buyers from the cities each trying to buy the finest for himself.

In 1915, Max L. Ostner, one of the extensive landowners in the community, erected a beautiful brick building which housed a thriving bank, post office, barber shop, grocery, and a department store where merchandise of superb quality could be purchased. There were well- stocked departments of hardware, furniture, housewares, shoes, china and cutglass, ready- to - wear, for both men and women, millinery, where beautiful hats were available for the ladies, bolts and bolts of fine fabrics, including the popular foulard, Georgette, and crepe de Chine.

Many customers from neighboring towns came to Diehlstadt to shop. City salesmen who were better known as drummers made regular calls to the stores to sell their wares.

In 1921, a new brick school building was erected which accommodated grades from kinder garten through high school. This will long remain in the memories of many boys and girls in both Scott and Mississippi counties for it was here they received a high school education.

During the depression years, Diehlstadt suffered along with the rest of the country and like most other places went through a period of deterioration. Within the last few years, however, there have been many worthwhile improvements made. The once sandy streets have been blacktopped, new street signs have been erected, vapor lights have been installed and a new city hall is under construction. Many new homes have been built, most of which have been constructed and sold by Paul Norman, building contractor.

In 1971, Terry L. Bagwell, son of Dr. John F. Bagwell, donated a portion of his town lots so that a street might be opened for public use because he felt it felt it was betterment of the town as well as for the people therein.

As a former resident of Diehlstadt and one who still maintains an interest and still thinks of it as home, I want the town to remain intact. I want to see it grow and to prosper. I do not want to give any part of it away.

Through the untiring efforts of leaders like Albert Crosno, Paul Norman, Grover Morrow, Kenneth Belt, Harvey Jones, Bob Chappell and others, Diehlstadt has a chance to retain its dignity.

You can help by cooperating with the present leaders of the town who are giving so freely of their time and of themselves in their efforts to keep a town alive.

Mrs. N. Richards

Washington Report by Senator Symington

CONGRESS APPROVES MAJOR DRUG PREVENTION PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- In order to coordinate federal efforts in drug abuse prevention, the Congress has authorized programs involving more than $1 billion over the next three years.

The legislation, which has been sent to the President for signature, would establish for a three- year period a Special Action Office for Drug Abuse Prevention to plan and supervise federal efforts relating to drug abuse education, training, treatment, rehabilitation and research. A Special Action Office with limited powers has existed since June under Executive Order.

The act also creates a National Institute on Drug Abuse within the National Institute of Mental Health December 31, 1974. After a transition period, the Institute will take over permanent federal drug prevention programs from the Special Action Office.

The Drug Abuse Office and Treatment Act represents the first major effort to pull together the fragmented federal programs related to drug abuse prevention, including those administered by the Departments of Health, Education and Welfare, Defense, and those of the Veterans Administration. It calls for the development within the next nine months of a comprehensive, long- term Federal strategy to deal with drug abuse prevention as well as drug traffic prevention which includes law enforcement and international drug control efforts. The strategy also shall include an analysis of the nature, character and extent of drug abuse in the United States.

The Director of the Special Action Office is responsible for overall planning and policy in federal drug abuse prevention efforts. To carry out these responsibilities, he is authorized to make recommendations to the President regarding law enforcement and drug traffic control, and to review and modify plans and budget requests to implement any federal drug abuse prevention program.

Under the Act, State governments are authorized to receive up to $130 million in technical assistance over the next three years through a system of formula grants to carry out drug abuse prevention programs.

The act also provides $350 million for special project grants to public and non- profit agencies and institutions. This would be used to develop drug prevention, treatment and rehabilitation programs for public and private employees, vocational counseling programs for persons in treatment programs, and programs to encourage employers to recruit persons emerging from treatment programs. Special project grants also may be used for treatment and rehabilitation programs in the criminal justice system, and to focus drug prevention programs on geographic areas.

Additional funds are provided for research to develop a block against the effects of heroin and to train personnel working in drug prevention programs.

In order to make treatment facilities available throughout the country, drug treatment and rehabilitation programs will be established in community mental health centers and public health service facilities.

DOUGHNUTS GALORE

AUCKLAND (AP) — A New Zealander, T.K. Mcguire, has designed a three-speed automatically controlled doughnut machine that can turn them out at the rate of 18, 27, or 36 dozen an hour. The machine works on the basis that a doughnut takes about 90 seconds to fry.

McGuire says he can supply overseas buyers with a machine for $1,610 which he says is a little more than half the cost of a one-speed American machine.

Bids Opened for New Fire Station

DEXTER -- Bids for construction of Dexter's new fire station were opened Monday night at the regular meeting of the Dexter City Council, and the CAD Plumbing and Heating Company, Inc., of Dexter was the apparent low bidder.

However, the low bid was considerably higher than the amount the city has available for the station. Construction of the station was approved by voters in a $75,000 bond issue, last August, which also included the purchase of a new fire pumper truck.

The fire truck, already purchased, cost nearly $39,000, leaving some $36,000 for building the station.

The low bid from CAD was $58,750 for a prefabricated steel building, and $62,000 for a prestressed concrete building.

Bidding was done on two types of building -- a prefabricated metal and prestressed concerte.

CAD's bid called for completion within 150 calendar days after starting work, as did the other two bids received. The other bids, apparently high, were from Brown Construction Company, Dexter and Rogers Construction Company Dexter.

Terry Howes, from the C. R. Trotter and Associates consulting engineeringfrim here, opened bids which were read aloud to the Council and contractors present for the bid opening.

Following the announcement that CAD was the apparent low bidder, Mayor Willis Conner and C. R. Trotter decided that negotiations would be necessary to see if the bid could be trimmed, or if some building construction could be done in stages instead of at one time.

Mayor Conner told the Council "we just don't have that kind of money to go over the bond issue amount, and something will have to be done."

Discussion revealed that part of the problem as far as construction contractors are concerned, is new Federal health and safety regulations. Many contractors feel that the new regulations will make all phases of construction more expensive, it was pointed out.

E. M. Stites, from the Stites Concrete, Inc., of Dexter, spoke to the Council on various facts about prestressed concrete, following the bid opening. Stites pointed out that concrete requires little or no maintenance, and is a permanent structure.

He urged the Council to give consideration to using prestressed concrete in building the fire station, to make Dexter "a leader in using prestressed concrete, which is manufactured right here in Dexter."

Mayor Conner told Stites that "every consideration" would be given to using the prestressed concrete type construction.

Following the bid opening, only two brief items were discussed, both dealing with litter and trash.

Mayor Conner read a petition signed by 13 residents living along Dexter Creek, in east Dexter, complaining of trash being dumped in the creek. Mayor Conner asked city Marshal Clay Baker to check out the situation and report back to the Council at the next meeting.

Ward Two Alderman Lehman Godwin relayed a complaint from Lemar Hicks to the Council. Hicks was complaining about junk and clutter in a vacant lot near his home. It was decided that a check would be made on the lot, and a letter will be written to the property owner from City Attorney Paul McGhee, warning that the lot needs to be cleaned.

The next regular meeting of the City Council will be April 3, the night before the city election April 4. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m., at the City Administration Building.

Cool Weather Will Continue

By LEONARD F. HAND
Farm Meteorologist

PORTAGEVILLE — Below normal temperature averages, and near normal precipitation totals are indicated for the Missouri Bootheel in the extended outlook for the period from mid- March through mid- April.

High pressure systems are expected to draw cold air more directly southward out of Canada into the United States. below normal temperature averages are slated for most of the region from the Great Plains to the Appalachians, including much of the Gulf coast region.

Cold fronts are more likely to deliver the bulk of our rainfall in the form of showers. Thundershower activity can be looked for quite regularly as cold and warm air trade places in the Mid- South. Deep penetration of cool air into the lower Mississippi Valley should tend to distribute heaviest rainfall totals to the south and east of the Bootheel.

In most of Southeast Missouri, Winter rains continue to be well spaced and in such amounts that field work has been interrrupted less than normal this year. Some melon ground was being turned the second week of March. A number of warm days in March pushed peaches ahead of schedule, with some pink showing on several varieties by mid- month. As usual, winds are generally high for best application of dormant sprays, with a few noteworthy exceptions.

The circulation pattern that gives us the most trouble with strong and persistent winds is when a broad flow extends in a nearly straight line from the southern Plains to the Ohio Valley. Deeper penetration of cool high pressure systems may give us more favorable wind conditions than usual this season. Forecasts and extended outlooks should be followed closely so that spray schedules can be adjusted to take maximum advantage of light winds.

Warm March weather may have brought Alfalfa Weevil emergence on a bit early this season. Farmers will want to watch their fields for signs of buildups justifying controls during this period. Look for days with blight winds and temperatures above 60 degrees for best results.

Prospects for below normal temperature averages keep alive the problem of frost as Spring gets underway. In two years out of ten, a moderate killing freeze (24 to 28 degrees) may occur as alate as March 16 in southern counties and April 10 to the north. A light killing freeze (shelter temperature 28 to 32 degrees) may occur with the same probability as late as April 10 in southern Bootheel Counties and April 20 across the northern fringe.

Normal rain for mid- March through mid- April for the Bootheel as a whole is 4.58 inches. Normals for individual cities are: Cape Girardeau 4.31 inches, Dexter 4.59 inches, Fisk 4.47 inches, New Madrid 4.60 inches, Poplar Bluff 4.50 inches, Caruthersville 4.54 inches, Doniphan 4.49 inches, Morehouse 4.51 inches, Parma 4.46 inches and Sikeston 4.70 inches.

Short period averages for other points: Advance 4.08 inches, Bloomfield 4.78 inches, Clearwater Dam 4.09 inches, Kennett 3.86 inches, Portageville 3.93 inches, Qulin 4.00 inches, Bernie 4.07 inches, Charleston 4.26 inches, Deering 4.91 inches, Malden 3.93 inches, Puxico 4.13 inches and Wappapello Dam 3.95 inches.

School Buys New Vehicles

HOWARDVILLE — Superintendent George S. Reuter, Jr. announced that the New Madrid County R-1 enlarged board of education has purchased new equipment.

Five 66- passenger Ford buses were purchased from the low bidder, who was Bill Hayes Ford Sales of Portageville. One 60- passenger Ford bus was purchased from Hayes, low bidder. Three 60- passenger Chevrolet bus chassis were purchased from the low bidder, Dennis Chevrolet Company of Malden.

In addition, two club wagons were purchased from the low bidder, which was New Madrid Auto Sales. Nine bus bodies were purchased from McCabe Powers Boyd company of St. Louis.

Area Dentists At Dexter

DEXTER — The Spring meeting of the Southeast Missouri Dental Society was held in Dexter Thursday, with area dentists and dental assistants attending.

Dr. Robert Boon, Dexter, is president of the group this year, and arranged the meeting.

In morning and afternoon sessions, the dentists heard some of the late development in dental health, including new trends in preventive dentistry.

Speakers related that evidence is showing the interrelation of a person's total health to dental health, and also told of research that is pointing out how important diet is to dental health.

Four speakers presented various portions of the program. They were T. Wayne Lewis, Jackson; William C. Jackson, Poplar Bluff; G. Keith Deimund, Cape Girardeau; and Sam Hedgepeth, New Madrid.

The meeting held in the Community Building at the Dexter Housing Authority, also gave dental assistants to try out dental hygiene and cleaning methods on dentists. One new development used was the Plak-Lite, a flashlight- like device that helps a person detect cavity - causing plaque after they have brushed.

Also stressed by the dental assistants and dentists was the use of dental floss in cleaning teeth. One dentist commented that he had been using floss on patients for years, but "it's hard to use it on yourself."

Carrying out the dental health theme, the snack table featured apples, bananas and other fresh fruit, and other snacks that most dentists feel are less a cause of cavities.

Blackwell Admits Error In Letters

KENNETT — State Senator Earl Blackwell Wednesday told The Daily Democrat he simply made a mistake when he placed a news release to Missouri newspapers in envelopes bearing "Blackwell for Governor" and sent them out at state expense.

The envelopes, bearing the serial number of the Missouri Senate's postage meter, contained what the Democratic gubernatorial hopeful termed a letter to the editor, mailing out some 300 letters throughout the state. The letter, relating to Missouri's national ranking in education support, was printed by The Daily Democrat on Friday, Feb. 25, four days after it was mailed from Jefferson City.

Since the "Blackwell for Governor" envelope had been stamped by a postage meter, The Daily Democrat began a check of the serial numbers of machines in the state capitol and found that the number of the meter was the same as that used for the Missouri Senate for official use. A state employe in charge of the Senate mailing room, Ron Kirchoff, confirmed that Blackwell had sent out a mailing on February 21 of "about 300 letters." All the letters had eight- cent stamps, Kirchoff said.

When questioned about his role in the mailing, Kirchoff said, "All I have to do is get the senator's assurance that it's Senate business."

Blackwell told The Daily Democrat the use of the envelopes bearing "Blackwell for Governor" and post office box numbers in Jefferson City and Hillsboro, his home, had been an error. The letter also bore the lege nd "Blackwell for Governor" and also the official seal of the state of Missouri.

Blackwell, who is campaigning on a no- tax- increase platform for the Democratic nomination, said his letter was meant to serve as a non- political message to state newspaper editors. The last paragraph of the letter states, "Personally, I would like to see us rank fiftieth in taxation. When we reach the point where a state is judged on how heavily it taxes its citizens, I think it is time for a wholesale reappraisal of our attitudes."

A member of the Senate Accounts Committee, when questioned about the Blackwell mailing, said he had no knowledge of the incident but planned to discuss it with other members of the committee. The committee oversees the operation of the mailing room and supervises and enforces mail- room regulation in an effort to prevent political use of official tax supported mailings.

Cooks Lease Kennett Hotel

KENNETT — Mr. and Mrs. John D. Cook, Albuquerque, N.M., have signed a five- year lease for the Cotton Boll Hotel and restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook, with over 20 years of experience in hotel- motel and restaurant management, said the lease arrangement — with an option to buy — was completed last week with Mr. and Mrs. Al Robinett and Charles Earls, owners of Cotton Boll Hotel, Inc.

Cook, a native of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and his wife, Alma Jean, originally of Portageville, have been operating the hotel and restaurant since February.

New York University's baseball team will play 24 games this spring. The Violets of 1971 had a 12-7 record.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The world missions agency of the Presbyterian Church U.S. (southern) has recommended that the denomination invite overseas churches to send missionaries to the United States for a change. All six continents need missionaries from elsewhere, the agency says, including this country.

Line cups of muffin tin with strips of lean KREY Gourmet Bacon and heat in 400° oven until bacon is well done but not crisp. Add one egg to each muffin cup and bake until set. Be careful not to let the yolk get hard. Empty each nest on crisp toast and top with barbecue sauce.

KREY

HAM POCKETS INDIA:

Roll out 10 refrigerated biscuits to ⅛ inch and top each with 1 tablespoon of the following mixture: 1 cup ground KREY Gourmet Ham, 1 teaspoon curry powder, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, and dash of cayenne. Fold biscuits over to form pockets, crimp edges, and bake in 375° oven until brown. (Careful trimming of skin and fat allows rich hardwood smoke to penetrate deeper into KREY Gourmet Hams.)

KREY

GOURMET SPECIALTY EGGS:

On toasted halves of English Muffins place slices of turkey or chicken and top with slices of KREY Gourmet Ham. Top each with a poached egg. Serve two per person with a topping of Hollandaise Sauce. (Anything that's better is worth more, but remember also there's no bone and no excess fat in KREY Gourmet Hams.)

KREY

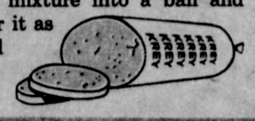
BAKED HAM BALLS:

Mix ¾ pound ground KREY Gourmet Ham, ½ pound sausage, ½ cup milk and ½ cup cracker crumbs. Form into 2-inch balls and bake for two hours in 325° oven in a sauce made of ¾ cup brown sugar, ½ cup vinegar, ½ cup water, 6 cloves and 1 tablespoon dry mustard. (Only 1 in 4 hams is good enough to earn the distinguished name KREY Gourmet Ham.)

KREY

BRAUNSCHWEIGER SNOWBALL SPREAD:

Mash 8 ounce package cream cheese at room temperature and mix in enough mayonnaise to spread easily. Blend together thoroughly 1 pound KREY Braunschweiger, ½ cup chili sauce and 2 teaspoons horseradish. Mold meat mixture into a ball and spread cream cheese over it as icing. Garnish with sliced olives and pimiento.



KREY

VEAL AND HAM TREATS:

Top thin slices of serving-size veal cutlet with slices of KREY Gourmet Ham. Dip in a mixture of Parmesan cheese and bread crumbs. Then in beaten egg, then in bread crumbs and cheese again. Then saute in butter about 10-minutes at low heat on each side. Serve with tomato sauce. (KREY Gourmet Ham makes any recipe you use superior because of its superior slow smoking.)

KREY

DEVILED HAM NOODLES:

Cook and drain 8 ounce package of noodles, then stir in ½ pound chopped KREY Gourmet Ham and about 2 cups Cream Sauce. Place in casserole, top with 6 halves of deviled eggs, and heat in 350° oven before serving. (Long slow smoking lets robust flavor seep into the very center of every tender KREY Gourmet Ham.)

KREY

HONEY-ORANGE HAM:

Spread 1 inch thick slice of KREY Gourmet Ham with honey. Sprinkle with grated orange rind. Moisten brown sugar with orange juice and spread over all. Broil 5 to 6 minutes. Take out of broiler, spread other side in the same way, and broil again for 5 to 6 minutes. Garnish with sections of orange. (KREY Gourmet Hams are smoked longer and they're all solid meat.)

Oil Shortage to Put Pressure on Prices

By Editorial Research Reports

WASHINGTON -- The State of Texas will allow all oil wells to produce at maximum capacity beginning Saturday -- the first wide- open run of the wells since 1948.

From oil glut to oil shortage in 10 years. That's the situation created by America 's voracious appetite for oil and its byproducts. .What's more, U.S. oil demand is expected to increase by an average of 3.8 per cent each year until 1985, putting still greater pressure on domestic oil reserves and on the prices Americans pay for gasoline and heating oil.

The shift from surplus to deficit was dramatized when the Texas Railroad Commission on March 16 set that state's oil allowable at 100 per cent. Texas produces more than 35 per cent of the nation's oil. Industry leaders told the commission that oil inventories in the state were at their lowest level in four years.

With oil production peaking in the principal oil- producing states, any hope for greater domestic output rests with new areas such as Alaska's North Slope or the East Coast Continental Shelf. But the Interior Department contends that even if domestic production could be maintained near its present rate with the help of Alaskan oil, "foreign petroleum may need to be imported ... at a rate of 8 million barrels a day by 1980, as compared with 3.4 million barrels a day in 1970."

The oil import issue is a real basket of eels. Quota restrictions on cheaper foreign oil imports help prop up domestic oil prices. A staff report to the congressional Joint Economic Committee estimatedthat Americas pay $5 billion in higher prices each year because of the oil quota program. This costs the average American family about $100 more a year in gasoline or fuel-oil prices.

But without the protection of an indirect subsidy, domestic producers would have little incentive to find and develop new oil fields. In the event of a national emergency, the United States might find itself dependent on foreign oil. If quotas were dropped altogether, as many as 150,000 jobs might be lost. Petroleum economist Richard J. Gonzalez argues, moreover, that since much of the nation's natural gas is produced in conjunction with oil, any decline in domestic exploration will affect gas reserves, too.

The argument over domestic versus foreign oil could become academic in future years as demand for petroleum increases and as foreign oil producing nations narrow the price differential. In the last year, the balance of power has swung sharply over to the producing countries from the big international oil companies that had traditionally held it.

Six Persian Gulf area states on March 12 won a 20 per cent share of the ownership in four U.S. oil companies exploiting their one great resource. As the buyers' market in international oil becomes a sellers' market, prices for imported crude have risen. The price advantage for a barrel of Mideast oil delivered to the East Coast was $1.30 two years ago. Now it has shrunk to about 75 cents over a barrel produced in the United States.

Some domestic oil producers would like to raise the price of crude oil by as much as 25 per cent on the ground that they would then have an incentive to search for and exploit new sources of U.S. oil and gas. The price commission no doubt would take a dim view of such a big jump. But one way or another the oil supply squeeze is likely to be translated into higher prices at the gas pump.

Why is it the flowers always look so great in all the magazines where they picture them growing in the patios, & then I go to the window and look out at mine and horrors! I do everything they tell me to — I mulch with peat moss, I feed with fertilizer. I prune with special clippers, I spray with poisons, I water, I sing, I even pray over them and still — nothing!! I don't know, but I'm sure doing something wrong. Charles says it's when I sing to them, he says that takes six months of growth off their limbs right there and he may be right but I do think it's rather tacky of him to come right out and say so. Anyway, this spring we've started all over and have dug up our whole courtyard, saved the top soil, dug out the hard pan (which is they say, why the water wouldn't drain out), filled in with sand, put back on the top soil again, made drains of tiles to carry off the extra water, replanted the area with all new plants practically, and now we are sitting back and awaiting the end results. I'll tell you one thing for sure, if I don't get at least one boquet out of there this summer I'm going to concrete and forget the whole mess. I decided long ago my green thumb was a trifle on the black side, but this is ridiculous — I'd do better with no thumb at all. Oh well, what's that old song, "I'm the only little petunia in the onion patch," believe me, whoever wrote that must have just seen my courtyard and gotten his inspiration there — well not quite, cause I don't even have onions!

Old Fire Engine to Haywood City

CARUTHERSVILLE — Granny, the 1937 Diamond T fire engine formerly the property of the Caruthersville fire department, is the number one fire engine of Haywood City, a small Southeast Missouri community near Benton.

The truck, which was won by the Dr. Alan Gubin family of Caruthrsville in a recent giveaway, was donated to Haywood City by the Gubins, after it was learned the small community had no fire protection.

Dr. Gubin stipulated that if Granny was ever retired from the Haywood City department, she was not to be junked but given back to the Caruthersville Park Commission to be placed in the city park for youth to enjoy.

Parley on Urban Crime

POPLAR BLUFF — A conference for area law enforcement officials dealing with attacks on law enforcement and related urban crime problems will be sponsored by the Federal Bureau of Investigation at the armory April 6 according to William A. Sullivan, special agent in charge of the St. Louis FBI Office.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the conferences, to be held in every state, will inform local and state law enforcement authorities concerning attacks on police, incendiary and bombing activities, thefts of firearms, and other terrorist acts of violence. Hoover noted that many robberies and thefts of firearms and explosives are committed by revolutionaries to support their terrorist activities.

"The increase in violent activities by terroristic and revolutionary groups in the United States, especially their assaults on police officers, constitutes one of the most serious problems facing our society today," Hoover said. "Only by keeping informed on the current tactics of these extremist forces can law enforcement expect to cope with them."

Conferences will be attended by law enforcement personnel, prosecutors, and members of the judiciary. Special agents in charge of the 59 FBI field offices will preside over conferences in their areas, and leading law enforcement officials will participate in panel discussions.

The conferences will be based on a two- day pilot seminar in Washington, D.C., in November, 1971, on urban guerrilla warfare.

Sullivan said that serving as conference panelists will be Capt. Wayne Brooks, Troop E, and Sgt. Ferial Findley, both of troop E, Missouri State Highway Patrol.

ASPARAGUS-HAM CREPES

Can't help wondering just how much fun we'll have -- hunting Easter Eggs in maxi-coats and warm boots! These frosty winds have suppressed any ideas I might have had about wearing a neat little straw and patent leather hat.

..... but to the culinary!

The season provides an excuse for me to focus on my favorite things .... homemade breads. Following are three from as many origins. All are pretty as well as tasty, and the Portugese variety makes a festive centerpiece for Easter breakfast. The Kulich makes use of those empty coffee cans you've stashed away ... the ones you save for broken crayons and homeless puzzle pants. (There must be a heaven for those little misfits!) When the Kulich is baked, frost the tops, decorate and pass several to good neighbors.

Also included are two ideas for fresh asparagus, one with scrambled eggs and another for some great ham crepes with curry sauce. Use asparagus often, if the family doesn't object, for it's high in vitamin C and furnishes a goodly share of vitamin A. And don't forget to prepare the crepes paper thin ... that's part of their delicacy.

Best Easter wishes ....!

PORTUGUESE EASTER BREAD

6½ to 7¼ cups unsifted flour
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 packages active dry yeast
1 cup milk
¼ cup water
¼ cup (½ stick) margarine
3 eggs (at room temperature)
8 hard-cooked eggs

In a large bowl thoroughly mix 2 cups flour, sugar, salt and undissolved active dry yeast.

Combine milk, water and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120 degrees F. -130 degrees F.). Margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add 3 eggs and 3/4 cup flour. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down; turn out onto lightly floured board. Divide dough into 8 equal pieces. Take about ¼ of each piece and set aside. Shape larger pieces into round balls. On greased baking sheets, press large pieces of dough down into circles about ½ -inch thick. Place a hard-cooked egg in center of each. Divide each of the remaining 8 pieces of dough in half. Shape each into a 6-inch rope. Using 2 ropes, cross in an "X" over each egg and seal ends underneath dough. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 to 35 minutes, or until done. Remove from cans and cool on wire racks.

When cool, frost tops with confectioners' sugar frosting and decorate with colored sprinkles, if desired. Makes 2 cakes.

BABKA

2 cups unsifted flour ¼ cup sugar
1 package active dry yeast
½ cup milk
¼ cup (½ stick) margarine
3 eggs (at room temperature)

½ cup chopped almonds
½ cup seedless raisins
Confectioners' sugar frosting
Colored sprinkles

In a large bowl thoroughly mix ⅝ cup flour, sugar, salt, lemon peel and undissolved active dry yeast.

Combine milk, water and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquids are very warm (120 degrees F. - 130 degrees F.). Margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add eggs and ½ cup flour or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Add remaining flour and beat 2 minutes at high speed. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Remove from cans and cool on wire racks.

Combine confectioners' sugar, almonds and enough cream to make a thin glaze. Drizzle over cakes. Sprinkle with raisins and colored sprinkles.

Continued

¼ cup mixed candied fruits
¼ cup seedless raisins

In a large bowl thoroughly mix ⅝ cup flour, sugar and undissolved active dry yeast.

Combine milk and margarine in a saucepan. Heat over low heat until liquid is very warm (120 degrees F - 130 degree F.). Margarine does not need to melt. Gradually add to dry ingredients, and beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Add eggs and ½ cup flour, or enough flour to make a thick batter. Beat at high speed 2 minutes, scraping bowl occasionally. Add remaining flour and beat 2 minutes at high speed. Cover; let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until bubbly, about 1 hour.

Stir in candied fruits and raisins. Turn into greased and floured 2-quart Turk's Head pan or tube pan. Let rise, uncovered, in warm place, free from draft, for 30 minutes.

Bake in moderate (350 degree F.) about 40 minutes, or until done.

Before removing from pan, immediately prick surface with fork. Pour Rum syrup (below) over cake. After syrup is absorbed, remove from pan and cool on wire rack. When cool, if desired, frost with confectioners' sugar frosting. Makes 1 cake.

Rum Syrup: Combine ¼ cup sugar, 1/3 cup water and 2 teaspoons rum extract in a saucepan; bring to a boil.

FRESH ASPARAGUS OMELET

1 cup ⅓ -inch fresh asparagus pieces
6 eggs
2 tablespoons water
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

To prepare asparagus, break or cut off tough ends and cut stalks into 1/2 inch pieces. Place asparagus in medium saucepan and add 1 inch water. Cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer for 5 to 8 minutes, or until tender, but not soft. Drain and set aside.

In a medium bowl beat eggs with water and salt just until well mixed. Add cooked asparagus. Heat butter in medium (10-inch) skillet until bubbly but not brown. Add egg mixture and cook over low heat until edges begin to set. Gently lift edges of omelet to allow uncooked mixture to run under and cook. Using a long wide spatula fold omelet in half and slide onto a serving platter. Serve with Cheese Sauce*

Makes: 3 or 4 servings.

*CHEESE SAUCE

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
1 cup shredded Cheddar Cheese
¼ teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce

In medium saucepan melt butter and blend in flour. Gradually stir in milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Add cheese and Tabasco and stir over low heat until cheese melts.

ASPARAGUS-HAM CREPES

Crepes:
½ cup flour
1½ cups milk
1 egg
¼ teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients in bowl and beat until smooth. Heat a 6-inch skillet or crepe pan until very hot. Brush quickly with butter or oil and add approximately 2 tablespoons of the batter to the pan. Quickly tip and turn the pan so that the batter covers the bottom. Cook until slightly browned, turn and cook the other side. Remove and repeat with remaining batter, stacking crepes between waxed paper or paper towels as they are completed. Makes: 8 crepes.

Curried Egg Sauce:
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup finely chopped fresh onion
¼ teaspoon curry powder
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1¼ cups milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/8 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
4 hard-cooked eggs, cut in quarters

Melt butter in medium saucepan; add onion and curry powder and cook until onion is tender Blend in flour and salt. Gradually stir in milk; add Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Add eggs; heat. Keep sauce warm.

To assemble crepes:
2 pounds fresh asparagus (about 32 stalks)
8 thin slices boiled ham

Wash asparagus; break off each stalk as far down as it snaps easily. Cook, covered, in 1 inch boiling water in a large skillet until tender, 5 to 8 minutes. Place a slice of ham on each crepe. Drain asparagus, and while still warm place 3 or 4 spears on each crepe. Roll and place seam side down on a platter, or 2 to each of 4 individual plates. Spoon Curried Egg Sauce over crepes and serve immediately.

Makes: 4 servings of 2 crepes each.

Eagleton Says Bid Afoot To Avoid Goals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., said Tuesday "there is an effort to avoid achievement of the goals for reductions of auto emissions set in the 1970 Clean Air Amendments."

"This cooperative, concerted effort began in industry-administration meetings in 1971," Eagleton said, "but it was crystalized at a meeting at the Western White House in San Clemente on Jan. 13 and 14 of this year.

"Since that meeting," he said, "we have been virtually inundated with industry and administration pronouncements against the clean air effort."

Eagleton made the comments at the opening of Senate air and water pollution subcommittee oversight hearings probing efforts to clean the atmosphere.

Representatives of General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors testified they would be unable to meet the stringent standards calling for 90 per cent reductions in hydrocarbons and carbon monoxide by the 1975 model year and for nitrogen oxides by 1976.

The four major automakers have requested or plan to ask the Environmental Protection Agency for a one year delay in enforcing the standards.

Eggs Are In!

Spring in general ... and Easter, specifically, is a good time to think of eggs.

Children in all parts of the western world look forward to Easter baskets filled with brightly colored eggs, cooked and ready to provide essential nutrition as soon as the egg hunt is over.

The dual use of eggs, as a symbolic decoration and as a major food, had its origin in early history. Pagan ceremonies included eggs as a symbol of the earth, life and the rebirth of all growing things. It likely was a vestige of the earlier use that encouraged early Christians to consider eggs as a symbol of the resurrection.

In medieval England, egg-throwing and egg-rolling contests were traditional on Easter Sunday. In 1810, Dolly Madison introduced the traditional of rolling colored eggs down the slopes of the Capitol grounds on Easter Monday. However this practice was so hard on the Capitol lawn that the egg roll was moved to the White House in 1878.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that there are plenty of eggs this spring for egg hunting, egg eating and any other use. Production in March is expected to be near the high level of a year ago.

If you plan to decorate eggs this Easter, you should know how to select eggs by USDA grade and size. Highest quality eggs are labeled USDA Grade AA (or Fresh Fancy) or USDA Grade A. These eggs are ideal for any use, but are especially recommended for use as hard-cooked eggs to assure you of highest quality.

To hardcook eggs, cover completely with water in a pan. Bring the water to a gentle boil and cook two to four minutes. Turn off heat, cover and let stand about 20 minutes. Immerse in cold water to cool eggs for dying.

After you have dyed the eggs (using one of the harmless food coloring dyes), store in the refrigerator until the Easter egg hunt. While eggs are in the Easter basket, keep the basket away from hot places like radiators. After the egg hunt, immediately return the eggs to the refrigerator. Plan to eat hard cooked eggs within one or two days.

You can use them as is or in a number of spring dishes -- egg salads, deviled eggs, egg dips and canapes. Chopped hard cooked eggs are good in casseroles with chicken, ham, tuna or as a garnish for mixed vegetables, spinach, broccoli or asparagus.
